3 CR 8 55 am 3cr digital 3CR dot org dot au and 3cr On Demand. Out of the pan with Sally first broadcasting noon through one every Sunday afternoon. Thanks for your company. 3cr proudly broadcasts from the lands of the Wurundjeri people of the Kulin nation, and we pay our respects to elders past present and emerging, hello to any Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people listening from whichever land, you are on, and any First Nations people from any part of the earth, and we acknowledge that all the lands were stolen and never ceded. And that reconciliation is an ongoing process on which we can all play a part; more in a second. I'm Sally Goldner. I use the pronoun. she her and out of the pan is a show covering well by and large lgbtqa+ issues, but very much large today, unashamedly and unabashedly and we opened up with the new day theme from World Wrestling Entertainment because after last night, it is a new day. Oh my goodness. What a night. So much to report on. And we having a chat with Janet rice in about 10 minutes times to Australian Democrat as Australian green senator for Victoria. I know, I know, I think I regressed there to the the seventies, and Heap the custards on me or something. But what a night last night it became obvious very quickly that the liberal National Party would not get a majority. Although that was a possible possibility. We can't believe polls. And I think we could breathe half the sigh of relief at that point, that, that was the case from a point of view and lgbtiq, A+ and many other issues then became clear that labor was scooting ahead and would form the government and it's still to some extent, a question of whether it will be majority or minority, lots of seats in doubt and well then, you know, we just saw

So, so much progress for greens and till Independence and there's lots of implications of that all around, you know, that, you know, they the greens overwhelmingly have a good record on lgbtq+ issues like knowledge in. They've had their issues and maybe still have with some radical feminists but the teal independent seem pretty strong. And an interesting mean came my way just before.

I came on the show. That was a really sort of got my attention. It's on a Facebook post called Austin's post and the ten highest marriage, equality. Yes, it's held by liberal MPS were went with Ben Higgins Goldstein. Kooyong Ryan curtain, North Sydney. Linda's boothby. The Liberals, lost nine out of ten of those last night. In my best, might more a Frontline voice. Hmm. So

It does seem like there is a real green and teal, see change going on out there, but I wanted to mention something. Yes, this shows unabashedly about queer issues, but full credit to Anthony Albanese E4, repeatedly, mentioning the all arou statement from the heart last night. The enthusiasm in relation to that was quite huge and I hope do hope very much beyond my little part of the backyard that we can get progress on that.

So many results. Craig Kelly. I'm so I'm going to have to do this because we went 12th man, imitating Creek. Commentators a few weeks ago in my best, Bill Lori, voice. Craig Kelly, Scott Morrison. They're gone. Piss off the route. Seriously, what a turn and it doesn't seem like United, Australia party, and one nation of made. A lot of ground in this campaign at all. Lots of comments.

I mean, from all our awesome listeners from Mel and Hoffler and trying to keep up with that power of women. We saw from the independence. And so happy that the greens increase their vote. And mail says, I feel proud to be a Victorian. So you tapped into the bill Lori vibe there and in Australia will be listening to the show today. Well, listening in a way and thus far hopefully said of the song. Can't wait for the election. Now, it says, Alp and Higgins is Well, yeah, that's a big one. And one of interest to me. I live in the seat of Menzies, which covers parts of sort of what I call it halfway between inner and outer Suburbia or middle Suburbia, and it's line ball. It was a very safe seat held by retiring liberal person Keith kevinandteresa, I beg you. Pardon and a new guy Keith while I hand came on and he's fighting for it for the seat. It's about point six of one percent in favor of Labor. Although it's going back and forth as the votes.

Handed out. I would have called that a rock solid state. So very very interesting and so credit to the Alp candidate, Naomi Oakley for running a strong campaign. But so many good, you know some from a queer point of view. It's overwhelmingly positive result, a certain candidate and certain New South Wales seat, walloped hugely into second place. And as I also saw another meeting in relation to that particular candidate, I hope pronouns now.

Now was were I like that one as well? It's just seriously trying to be, you know, balanced about this. It is such a relief from a point of view, of queer people. It's been a horrible, nine years, particularly the last six. There have been some, you know, good people lose their seats, Katie Allen who is a reasonable person, but unfortunately, the responsibility for that lies with the dominance of the Liberals with this, right wing or Ultra conservative.

Every social conservative approach. And, you know, I grew up with concepts of take responsibility for yourself. Think of the consequences of your actions, maybe. Think about people other than yourself, and I don't think that the right wing of the Liberal Party of done those first two. Now, some will say, will the Liberals move further to the right. Who knows. I think they're, you know, surely, they're pragmatic enough to realize that if they don't start, you know, talking to Center sent Center.

So sort of smaller liberals, then they're not going to get them back. I don't think Australia is has say, fundamentalist as the USA. We obviously can't fall behind the sort of military rhetoric that the USA Canada Lara, the previous US president. So well, who knows? But I'm going to be chatting to Janet rice in a second about what all this means. I was hoping. I'm hoping to get. And if just about locked in a Labour party person for a couple of weeks time.

And I'm hoping to get a full interview with one or more of the teal Independence because, you know, let's try know that the part I don't I totally want to affirm that the last nine years, particularly for Trans and gender diverse people and families has been flapping, awful. I'll keep it as polite as hat. You make you stronger words to yourself at home that I can't. Put two are

But on the other hand, you know the saying live in the present moment comes into we now have an opportunity. We have a Labour party that certainly isn't as nasty as the Liberals. And there are still some reasonable people. We hope in Liberal, and National parties, but we have greens, which I'm going to talk to Janet rice about in a minute. And we have the teal Independence, and it seems that they are very positive about this and other say, trying to get an interview with the till Independence and hopefully get that and was trying to get more and listen.

Technological issues, but I hope this will go to air.

And it didn't, we'll come back to that and just had some tech issues. Downloading something from the phone that has been recorded. But and getting it to play properly, don't you love live radio and here we go. This is live radio people of all genders and

To trans and lgbtiq, i+ people. I've got you, the voice of Zoe, Daniel, the member, for now member for Goldstein as of last night. So yeah, lots happening there and I think we have an opportunity to get stuff done. And, you know, we I am Apple, you know, we cannot ignore the pay as I say. Cannot ignore the pain of the last six years in particular for Trans people.

Five schools. What we went through in the postal survey. The religious discrimination bill, which is now completely, snuffed at Cactus, two meters under, but yeah.

Now sort of fum. Wow, Let's try and get together. Let's try to make we refuse. I'll say cross partisan as possible and do some more stuff. All right, there's my introduction to the show. I'm going to play a track and then get Janet rice on the zooms. Only got it for a short amount of time. So it's a tight and pact program today. You're listening to the post-election addition of out of the panel 3cr 855 am 3C are digital.

Three co.org you'll see on demand. Remember if you want to get in touch with the show out of the pan 855 at gmail.com SMS, six one, four, five, six, seven one five, one, two, and five tweet at sell gold said, so and look for posts on Facebook, Sally Gardner, am and out of the pan 3cr 855 M, Melbourne. Remember any opinions on the program are strictly my own. Let's have another update track this time from Pink and then we'll have Janet rice on the line.

From me to you.

The party has started. Hopefully a new era for all of the lands of this continent. Its surrounding islands for Aboriginal and Torres. Strait Islander people, people, but hopefully also for lgbtiq, i+ queer people, and I'm honored to have on the line on what is a very busy day after a very busy time victorians. Senator for the Australian greens, Janet rice, and Janet. Welcome to 3 CR. And well, let's not waste any time. You must be a happy green happy.

A after last night. I sure it's terrific to be here with you, this afternoon to be helping to celebrate. What has been massively significant result for all of us Tralee. Really, I think that we are on track to really turning a corner and doing things differently with more care and with more sustainability and more Justice than the last nine years. Yeah, bit more Humanity, empathy and decency. You are agreeing. See,

Notice, I'm going to give you this chance to share your joy, you know, compared to 24 hours ago, numbers of Greens in the Reps and the Senate. And then compared to what we might be looking about acknowledging that there's a lot more counting than referencing to do yet. What's the sort of before? And after from the point of view of the greens? Yeah. Well, it's pretty phenomenal. And we're calling it a green slide. We've we've got, we had prior to this election. We had nine senators and one member of the House of reps. Adam all these bones them in the Inn.

Also, rips. We've now got 12 grain Senators, which is just extraordinary. So it's new senators in all three of Queensland, South, South Australia, and New South Wales. And we've got at least two new members of the House of reps. So basically, the seats of Griffith and Ryan in Brisbane, have both been called now as green seats. Wow, is extraordinary. And to think that we're going to have next and lemaitre's and Libby, Watson Brown joining. Our party room is just

A little. So at least three greens and then there are three more seats where we are still in the race. And that's another Brisbane seat, the seat of Brisbane itself. Where Stephen Bates, who is gay man is absolutely still there in a trance, in the city of Brisbane. Then we've got Mandy Nolan in the city of Richmond in Northern New South Wales who it's still too close to call. And then here in Melbourne, Steph Hodgins met in McNamara, who ran the most amazing Stellar campaign.

Extraordinary swing to here and it again is just going to come absolutely down to the wire and probably not going to be until with the last of the postal votes. Counted. That we're going to know whether Steph has got up over Josh Burns, appreciate your objectivity there that you know, we've got long distance to go, but just want to say that if your knees 15 on the canoe cautious end, that's still the biggest number of Greens in the federal parliament in your, in your history, isn't it? Well, and in fact, I know that for the Senate having fun

Cold symptoms gives us the largest third party for in the Senate ever 15. Yeah, that's increasing our party room by 50%. So we've gone up from 10 to 50. We're going to need to have an actual bigger party room. Get the party started. That's right. And potentially within looking at. Yeah, and I said up to potentially another three, so it is really extraordinary and I think along with the election of the tail Independence who and other Independents across the country.

That this is the beginning of the end of the two party system. And so people actually realize that you can vote for people who reflect your values really care about the same things, you care about and they get elected. So it is extraordinary and it's going to be a really interesting part of it to be particles over the next three years. Yep. No question, you know, sort of you know, and that's what I want to talk about. This. This Cho out of the pan is unabashedly about queer issues and let's open it.

Knowledge that I do just before you came on. It's been a horrible. Nine years for quiz particular last 64 trans, but all the same with that while acknowledging that we can now in a position to do better and look, it was a green wash, but there's also a fair shade of teal washing through as well. And I'm, we know what the greens policies are. There's some of the till Independence have declared their support for queer issues. So I want to drill further than most of our listeners, know what the issues are for all of Igbti for the

It's group strands by intersects Ace. I want to drill through with process with you. What can we now all do to get as across partisan. Cross community approach, is possible to get these reforms rolling because without I'll just try to be balanced. There is some concern or some anxiety that labor because of its no target approach. During the campaign might not act as quickly as we all might, like, so how can we just all work together? Put the politics aside and get stuff done. How can people get in, you know, connect?

To you and Grassroots, queer punters. And make sure that it all happens and how would? And so that's one part of my question and the other part is, you know, in terms of the independent steel or otherwise, what's your can, you know, how have you built connections to them? So that because I think there's a lot of common ground. So that's what I want to. I just want to get on with it now. Yeah. Well, I think, I mean, starting with the second part. I think we're really looking forward to be working with with everybody in the parliament. But particularly that very enlarged.

Type in the house in the set and, you know, a screens, we're good at, you know, reaching out and collect collaborating and cooperating with other members of the parliament. So really looking forward to doing that. And on the lgbtqia+ issues. I think there can be a very active role for the Parliamentary friends of lgbtiq a first Australians, which I am one of the conveners of, so, really looking forward to working with people and seeing what you can do to be really getting to the end of our journey towards equality for

For queer people. And in terms of where the various independent stand, I yeah, we're about we're about to find out. I think in terms of Labor and their how willing they are going to be to actually move fast. We're at least we know that the government now, the liberal Nationals really dangerous devices, religious discrimination feel is gone. So that is what absolutely that is gone. We've seen that consigned to the Dustbin of me.

I suspect that labor will still be wanting to put up some form of legislation to be protecting people of face from discrimination, which houses greens have been quite supportive of that of having people of Faith being protected against discrimination as part of our sweep and discrimination laws. So, as long as it's straightforward, bit of a change to our existing anti-discrimination laws to have faith as a protected, attribute that. Maybe if they move,

Fairly quickly on that. That would be a, I think a good thing for them to do just a straightforward change like that. The danger is, if they wanted, then you try and do some different stuff which I think would then be the potential to be controversial. Yeah. I also think we're not going to be seeing a lot of movement from labor, very quickly. In government, to be winding back. Some of the other discrimination, that, that still exists in the sector's, termination act, and in our, in the fair work act. So obviously up until now they have

Had a shadow spoke spokesperson for equality. I'm really going to be calling upon thy, but look, they need to have a minister for Quality. I don't know whether they'll do that. But if I had a bit of support quality, we could then be sitting down with them fairly soon to say. Okay, what's going to be on your agenda? And how can we work together in order to be able to progress, ending all discrimination? And you know, really achieving full right for lgbti qa+ people. Yeah, we've had a related sort of question from one of our listings. On that about that you need for a federal.

Hei qa+ commissioner. And I think, you know, I'm well aware that the green to support that and I think Labour supports it in principle, but my concern is the devil will be in the detail. It needs to be a statutory appointment and I feel there also needs to be, Grassroots, Community involvement, from developing the position description, the interviewing, the candidates, and otherwise, it could become a, my words, a sort of power suit, corporate appointment, which is not what we need, you know, are going to. Are you Amanda?

To sort of work. That's a great idea. Yeah, and I think labor certainly have been very critical of the government are pointing their mates things like the human rights committee. So yeah, so I think having that sort of process would be really an opportunity for them to say, well, we're going to do things differently and we're going to involve the community. I don't know again. I don't know whether that's going to be something that they are going to progress on quickly, but it certainly, but I think our communities need to be calling for

Because it's spare you. It was part of the greens pack form. As you say label said that they were okay with it in principle. So let's be pushing you into actually. Get that LGBT is very fast, commissioner appointed. Yeah, it would be a sort of capacity boost if you like. I know your time is precious and I've got lots of, I've had a couple of questions coming from lister's and there's still one I want to ask. So hope you can hang on for a couple more minutes. Yep. Cool. Good. Sally, you know, there's you mentioned the huge results for the greens in Queensland. Yes, which, you know, your Obviously been pushing the climate change issue and climate and environment for years, but I wanted to also ask a couple of people from Mike Weir networks. In Queensland said, a lot of people went to the greens because they felt you were stronger on queer issues. The labor. Have you had any actual anecdotal or focus group type of feedback to back that look not specifically, but that would resonate for me as well. And I think it was an area where we did really differentiate ourselves.

Ourselves from the other parties. I mean, obviously we know that the Liberals with their attacks and their transphobia and, you know, the really awful awful stuff during the election campaign. We're not going to be the party of preference for labor went completely silent, you know, like weren't very outspoken at all. And so for that we're really wanting to have a strong Advocate on lgbtq A+ issues. It doesn't surprise me that they felt that. Yeah. There are the greens we've been standing up for people.

About every MP every time and really being strong Advocates. I know for myself and I was handing out yesterday on a polling Booth but screen wearing my rainbow Parts scarf and my pronouns bench. I got a lot of good feedback from people who yeah. Obviously would really appreciative of the position that the greens have taken on supporting LGBT. I feel like I've people. Yeah, well, I have my proud to be transparent on today. Excellent. Yeah, just For Old Times Sake, agenda, whisper a t-shirt.

So we can really shout. Yeah, I did hear quite a lot of people that were handing out also wearing their homeowners against Como teacher. Yep. And well, I also congratulate you on a Bulldogs win yesterday, as well. It was. And I had a, yeah, I've got, I've got to watch the Dreamtime game with where Richmond one last night - afternoon, but coming back to the issues. Had a question in from Mel. Who's one of our Recurring awesome listeners. What type of prime minister do you think elbow will be?

It's a really good question. I think he'll certainly be a better listener and much more connected with the community than Scott Morrison. And I think that's what we're really wanting and I think labor going to have to know their primary vote was they had a drop in their primary vote. They only got a primary vote of 32%, They're going to have to really focus on working. Well working collaboratively with the cross bench and with the community. So I hope that you know, Urban easy will

We'll end up being, you know, as he wants his. He said, he wants to be to be listening and working for everybody and bringing people together if he, that's what he delivers. I think he'll, yeah, it would be a really positive change for Australia. Yep. And well, well, that's that's all I had. Was there anything else you wanted to quickly? Add from the queer perspective and maybe when things are a bit less frantic and you've got more coffee in you after I had six weeks to have a bigger.

A chat down the track, but is there anything else you just wanted to add on this really? Just want to thank everyone including you know, all of the queer people and our allies who supported us and who did give us the privilege of voting for us. So that we ended up with this result that, you know, for me is one of the founders of the greens and Victoria. It's been 30 years and we've been building to the very sweet results had last night, and some breaking through, like we did with two at least.

Will members of the House of reps and with three more senators and to be doing, you know, that breaking down the two-party system, so, I just want to thank everybody who supported the greens who voted for the greens who have helped out in any way and really want to commit to continue to working together with people, so that we can be really progressing our rights and progressing. Yeah. Getting to the end of our journey towards equality, for sure. All right. I'll let you go Janet. Really appreciate the time. Have a great afternoon.

Noon. And yeah, let's stay in touch and let's get to queer equality over the next three years. Bye for now. Yeah. Thanks Allie. And thanks for your support. Hi, Janet rice. Victorians green Senator there on live on 3cr. Let's have the latest episode. Now from the Fab crew from Pacific X and you're on out of the pan on 3cr 855 am Digital 3cr Dot org Dot and 3cr On Demand out of the pan with Sally.

Tired of her lover. My loyalty, khurana for California to Kira. Isabella Wanaka, Aloha Hooman. Jaka and hello.

We are PX far no a Pacifica lgbtq+ podcast created during the covid-19 pandemic as a voice for our community informing and promoting good health and keeping our rainbow far. No safe for covid. This is presented by the Pacific X Collective and produce on were on dry land in the Studio's of 3cr in nam, Melbourne.

Kia Ora. I'm Sonia hammer. And in this episode of PX far, no, we will jump into the whirling and at times confusing Waters of covid-19, looking at the facts and the fictions. This is a brief myth-busting episode, looking at the serious. And sometimes the hilarious ideas that are out there and some of the protests that we've seen building a spin of falsehoods, some websites that have got genuine solid scientific.

Information include the who, which is the World Health Organization. They're the experts when it comes to things like pandemics and anything to do with global Health. They've been around for a very long time. They cover all the countries with all the information stats and data. That's required vaccination programs. Globally. They have a whole section on myth-busting which is really important and some of the stuff that they go into is everything from removing some of those folks.

So it's about mass and how important masks are. Now. Another one is actually it's American. It is the CDC. They have their very own site the Centers for Disease Control and prevention when it comes to myth and facts about covid-19 vaccines. They've got some pretty hard-hitting stuff there. One of the common myths is that the ingredients and covid-19 vaccines are dangerous. Well, the fact is also ingredients are many

Foods, including fats, sugars and salts, there's no live virus in the covid-19, vaccines. And so things like aborted, fetal cells. You won't find their, or antibiotics food proteins, latex, or Metals. Definitely not. So when you hear people saying that the vaccine can make you catch actually covid. That's not true. You can't shed it. It's not a live vaccine low, some of those

Is Miss away. And those conspiracies, another really good. One is the one that we probably heard about and that is, does the vaccine contain microchips fact is no vaccines do not contain microchips. Vaccines are not GPS systems for your human body. They are actually there to fight the virus. Another myth. Will the covid-19 vaccine make you magnetic. Now. I know for some

Some of you who maybe you're a bit deficient on a Magnetic Personality you'd like to boost having a covid vaccine isn't going to do that. It does not contain magnetism. So, yep, you're perfectly safe. So, yes, look, those are some of the crazy ideas that are out there and that to us no service at all. So I'm Sonja hammer and this is PX far no myth-busting on 3cr.

It could be a tequila sunrise, a classic from the Eagles, Desperado album of 1973 while trying to just catch up on lots of things and lots of messages coming in.

Overweight. And yep, you're very welcome. L4. I'll say on behalf of senator Rice. France. Answering the question, how to text in from one of our awesome listeners Kaline to the tune of the old. No more, 10 pencils. No more books. No more transform, no more transphobes. No more Crooks know, Morse camos. Dirty smirks and apologies to the deity's, a poetry, rhyme and song from Kathleen. That's about the case of it, you know, to use an old gag.

Now instead of someone said to me, you know, sort of I feel like a new person, somebody get me one. It's been another one that's coming and you know sort of lots of other questions and comments coming in, you know, sort of also questioned about the fact that Tim Wilson is now no longer in Parliament. Now, look, there's an interesting one there, you know, we do need

Still, I'm queer visibility and one can, you know, put the port. The point across that Tim was giving that and then some might say, well, you know, sometimes he would just use his fact that he was gay when it suited him that he wasn't there for the rest of the rainbow. And then you can say, well what about taking people on their merits? And, you know, I have to say in my travels. I've heard a lot of, unfortunately, criticism of Tim that he's a bit was a bit aloof. Perhaps didn't listen.

In those sorts of things. Now. I'm reluctant to say more. You know, he would have a right of reply on that. He still seems very belligerent this morning, not conceding, but also still attacking the independence. As I drove in this morning and caught some of ABC's analysis. One commentator said it was like, you know, sort of student politicians. They only know how to go on an attack. And maybe that's what Tim and Josh Frydenberg did. And that's where they got it wrong. So, yeah, you know, look,

Thing is, I'm all for diversity. Of course, all other things being equal. What if they're not equal, you know, I would quite frankly, rather a good straight than a bad queer in very simple language. Some people might increase in the queer Community, might not agree with me on that. But, you know, I think we've just got to have the best leaders and yes, that could mean Equity. Like, you know, bringing people up on, you know, sort of various skills, to make sure that groups who are more, who are marginalized, can make sure they have those.

Skills and then we level the playing field a bit more. So there's all sorts of things going on there. Hopeless come in. Careful of anecdotal evidence. Yeah. Look, that's a fair call, but I did get someone did want it to put it to Janet while I had her about the fact that quiz may have been turning to. The greens will be very interesting to see what happens. All those asked. What did I do? When I heard the final result? Was I watching the coverage, all night? Any surprises for you and did my candidate win?

Look, I was watching all night and did get to an event as well. And which is where that recording came from an earlier on which I hopefully got to are, you know, and it was quite exciting and it but it's even you know, any partisan bias aside. It just does it as a queer person and overall as an Australian. I feel like we have hopefully going to get back to a more decent era just a human decency and I think that's really Important as well. Now, sort of awful is coming with a comment on Tim. Yeah, look, perhaps, it's fair to say that someone liked him and this is something I will unpack a bit. Tim. Perhaps sort of, I'm going to say crawled across cut glass to people in positions of power. And then often what happens when people in our communities do that, you get one meter away from the people in power and they back off another 100 meters. And you've got to crawl across the Glass again. I think we could stand firmer. But the other thing is I just sometimes. Wonder if Tim, you know, didn't bring people along, didn't hold the door open for others. And, you know, I'm have concerns that some of our queer organizations are not doing that. Well enough, you know, where our apart from say Joe ball who's at run comes under the trans and gender diverse grouping is CEO of switchboard up in so-called lgbtiq. A+ organizations. Where are the trans by intersex? Ace? People who?

Sit at the overall policy table and represent everyone because how reality is sometimes gays and lesbians have not done it. Right? And that's something we're going to have to be careful of in our own Community as we head to the Future. You've also asked how well Janet celebrates and I didn't get a chance to ask that fist-pumping. They're all there. I think it's okay to say there was a bit of that on the zoom together with us. And yeah, I'm going to probably need a lie down after it all. And I thankfully it was only a cold this week if you're picking that up in the voice and not the dreaded, my

My Corona at all. So yeah, really interesting set of circumstances. I'm just going to have another track now and regroup because I do want to talk, of course, it was Idaho, but during the week and I forgot to mention that it was going to be last week. There have been some good things happen there, so that will take it out. But and then we'll take out the show. But in the meantime, let's keep the anthems running and I feel feel like we can have this again in Australia. Here's a classic anthem.

I'm Jonah, let's have some pride, 3cr 855 am-3, see our digital three co.org w3c, our on-demand out of the pan with Sally.

Tracy Oz, annual radiothon, fundraiser, launches in June. We need your financial support to be independent Community controlled, and focus on people. Rather than profits, your support during radiothon keeps the station, strong and enables us to give voice to hundreds of people and issues for another year. And remember Eddie amount you can afford makes a big difference and all donations over $2.

Deductible 3cr radiothon show your support during June 2020 to 3cr keep communities strong.

Absolutely, keep all Community strong, including queer communities. And well, it does seem like we're going to be in a stronger place from now on with plenty of Pride, the anthem from Jonah. Now things that have happened and things what are sort of coming up. Well, it was I too hot but during the week and lots of Snippets to report 68 out of 79, local councils and Victoria floor, rainbow flag, which is pretty damn awesome. And so what?

I'm just doing my math, that's about 85%, give or take and including lots of regional and Rural Wellington Shire Council, which is in south gippsland, or near South gippsland, South gippsland, Shire East gippsland. Shy, so good to set out and Regional, and Rural, and in particular, whether it's been some debate, the West Wimmer, a shire where a majority of councils in the end decided to go with it. And that's really welcome for our rainbow communities out in Regional and rural areas. He sent to be

You know, sort of accelerating the pace through all their great efforts so well done. And also be quiet to the wonderful Sally conning who had lots of great Idaho birthday stuff as well. I have to say, I had an amazing, Idaho, but day own did hit the alarm early and managed to get out to Westbourne grammar, a all gender Christian School in trigger Nina to address their first-ever Idaho bit assembly, and it was just absolutely joyful. I was greeted by the school Captain who had experienced some

If I become behaviors and has made it through and push the park to get lots of Pride groups going and they just had it all Rockin. And I now have on my car keys, a pride octopus, which was handmade so on and you're not a bit. No, it'll be my car keys. Rhonda, the Honda, the baddest car on the planet. Definitely, very queer. Also spoke to a government Department myself, but, you know, just the other thing I wanted to mention. There's a wonderful address about how we can

Be allies within the LGBTIQ, a plus communities, which I think longtime listeners. Will know, is a big thing for me from the fabulous. Todd. Fernando Victorian LGBTIQ, commissioner can catch up with that on my Facebook page, or look for it on. Here's there's also been a queer event at the wheel or Center. Well, it's does finally feel, like, you know, the clouds have lifted a bit, which is just so needed. Freedom of species is coming up next and their

Today on the show will be Saskia Atoms from Forever, Friends Animal Rescue in Victoria, and she obviously does great work as to all of us on freedom of species. Look for them on Twitter at fos in uppercase radio, lowercase f is Radio good to have their great work going on as well. Wow. And yeah, also earlier in the show, played the bisexual Alliance message because it is the by Discussion Group online. This Tuesday night at 7:30, strain East.

And standard time, look for the post on bile sexual Alliance Victoria's Facebook page. So bees buzzing in everywhere. Hooray. Wow, and of course Janet Rice, an out-and-proud be buzzed in on the show today. Thanks again, Janet for your time. Now. It's sort of melts. Come in representation matters. I ground that point, but when power and ambition along with bad policies, override democracy, overrides decency vilification on

It's not democracy. So yeah, I, yeah, I agree to some extent, Tim Wilson. You've said he had sadly shallow and wanting the pink vote to use that political term, you know, it's got to be done. Right? And I think that our rainbow communities, particularly, I'll speak for groups, like bi and trans. Have often felt Left Behind are very quick to pick up on insincerity. And again, this is going to be the theme moving forward. Can we start bringing everyone in the rainbow communities along level the playing field? It does feel though that we

Have that opportunity. And again, let's make the most of it and try to move us forward. But to all once again, to all my the trans Community out there. I hope that we can. You are breathing a bit easier after last night. It does feel like a significant source of the sort of the fuel that was fueling that with the defeat of the Morrison government. Perhaps that bush, that sort of fuel source has been what is it? Safely burnt off or something and Hope.

We weren't start again for at least three years. I'd better get out of here. Make Way for freedom of species. Take it out today with a track from Australian rock great Russell Morris from the album a Thousand Suns. Very appropriate, a New Dawn breaking. Thanks for tuning into out of the pan. I'm Sally Goldner. Catch you next week.

Free, you were driven like a traveler on a lonely road, but you've always helped those
