Every Sunday afternoon, thanks for your company 3 CR broadcasts from the lands of the Kulin Nations and particular the Wurundjeri people. We pay respect to elder's past present and emerging. Hello to any Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people tuning in to the show from whichever lands you're on and for that matter any First Nations people all over the planet Earth. And we acknowledge that all the lands on this large island and most if not all surrounding Islands was stolen and never ceded and that reconciliation is very much an ongoing process and I am, Sally Goldner, I am your host for the show.

I use the pronouns she her and welcome to listeners of all genders, including but not limited to ladies and gentlemen, and part of the lands were those in the High Country. We opened up today with Lee Kernighan gosh, that was from 1990 to 30 years ago and that I think was from his debut album, the Outback Club how times have flown if lots of things to discuss on the show today, we're having a look at Parramatta Pride which by coincidence I was at yesterday. Tell you how I got up to while I was up in Sydney and while we played that opening track also have a look at an article by a prominent former broadcaster and still media writer in Melbourne from two weeks ago and also look at taking responsibility. And if we get time the issue of police marching In events, like Pride, March and Mardi Gras, which I should have given a content node prior for that and we probably will need to at least mention transphobia, but hopefully just give it a mention rather than going into any great detail in that light, if you do need numbers for support at Q Life, which includes switchboard in Victoria and Tasmania is there on 1, 800 1845 to seven rainbow door on one, eight hundred seven, two nine three six seven SMS zero four eight zero one zero one seven, two four six. I've spent five or six days, well, not quite High Country but a place near the Blue Mountains and Derek country west of Sydney where I spent five days lying around doing nothing. It's probably the first holiday I've had in about least three years because of that thing that got in the way for a couple of years, called a pandemic and very relaxing, just looking at the wonderful view across the valley.

There were five. I said 5555 with apologies to book a tee five-time world champion Booker T and there's a wrestling reference. We're only eight minutes into the show five Pussycats. So the crazy cat person was in her element and to quote another old gag. I feel like a new person. Somebody get me one seriously. It was very very Taxing but hadn't really thought about it. But apparently yesterday was Parramatta pride and because that was on the way home home, could then be dropped off at the airport to catch the big bird home there. I was in Western Sydney and met lots of people who I'd previously only met with a square screen around them as we did for two years or B and a bit from particularly from the Sydney buying by Plus network.

Hi to Amber and Deanna and Ellie or admit before, but hadn't seen in 18 months and lots of great people. And I'm allowed to do self-deprecating, bittersweet humor. If I want to thanks to the Riley Ford clinic in Darag country for the recovery, it needed of late. So good to be back with you. But I got reflecting on Parramatta Pride because people say well “don't we have Mardi Gras our and In Melbourne, Pride, March, and Midsumma, carnival those events, certainly have a place, but I think when we have local sort of events, rather their big small in between non-binary, we don't mind about we're not sighs queens or kings or royalty on this show. It's really, really important. And what was that? What it was struck by now as I did as you do, I put some pics up of the event on social media and someone I've known for years but didn't know a lot about said that,

He grew up a gay man who grew up eating the western suburbs and it was pretty rough at that time. And it made a big difference to him to see that. And I think these are the things that we sometimes forget about, you know, if in some situations because, you know, yes, in Australia. Overall, let's put that caveat in immediately life is no overall, going up although in different degrees and it paces

And all the rest of it for lgbtiq, a plus people across lgbtiq a plus, it's well-known. And I won't name the person even though because this is only between friends on Facebook person said my own stamp mild stamping ground. I grew up in and around Parramatta before fleeing to Newtown and ultimately Melbourne. The idea of a pride, picnic, when I was a scared gay, Catholic school boy, would have been unimaginable. We built this. And well that's very true. This person went on to become a Coke

Danger of the Victorian Pride Lobby and has done lots of good work cross the broader Community as well. And another person said they were born at st. Margarets just off Taylor Square took a few years to get back to darlinghurst, but it was never in doubt. And I think it is that I'll case the saying that gets well known is in, you know, is we stand on the shoulders of giants and at a recent Forum I was out on older LGBT.

So qa+ people, someone said don't stand in, our shoulders are aching a bit and our backs might be going. Just walk beside us, but I get what that person. Get the gist of it. We do on a people who really had to do it somewhat tough and you know, we weren't there without them and I did see someone with a 78 as t-shirt on but didn't get a chance to talk to them and the spirit that they brought in I think is really important that they

Um, you know, sort of, but a bit of them might such a big effort and paved the way. Although, of course, the organization that things became well, they're well, let's not go there. I'm trying to be trying to be positive trying to be genuinely positive. Today.

Anyway, it was just really good to be their hangout with some quiz and hang out with the by plus Community, who, of course, are all overwhelmingly awesome and nice people.

And just a really good time. So, very important as I say that we have these sort of regional events and, you know, sort of events in particular suburbs, that local government areas acknowledge their lgbtiq, i+ communities and do inclusive policy, and put the work in and then do the visibility to show it. It's all very well to turn up and March, or turn up at one event. You've got to do the work on a day-to-day basis, but event, if you put it all together, these events are very positive. And I think for something

It would be fair to say for the two people who posted under my social media post, very healing in a sense as well. So all the same, it wasn't always easy. And then when we go back, further parameter, of course was not great. And in other ways, when we looked at what we did and I was reminded of this song from red gums album, virgin ground, so sort of a Bittersweet approach. Yes, things are getting better but always acknowledge the past. Don't just drown. What happened in toxic positivity,

And spin and his red gum from the album virgin ground with Verity Truman on lead vocal and Parramatta jail, 3, CR 855 am 3 CR Digital 3, CR dot org dot a you and 3 CR on demand out of the pan with Hi, my name is John 88 and I've collected hundreds of songs about footy and Sport. So we've put together a program called, the sporting record. Hang on. It's not all about your records. John a.m., and I are also here to cast a critical 3. CR, I over all things sport, join, John James and me every Thursday at 4:00 p.m.

For the sporting record right here on 855 3, CR kicking off, on Thursday, August 25th at 4:00

Hi. We are the lumber gels Hills and we're from Canada. So you're listening to 3 CR 855 am Community radio and we just want to say support your local radio station. Wait. Hey, away we go. Donkey riding donkey riding. Wait, hey and away. We go riding on a donkey. My name is Todd. Fernando. I'm the Victorian commissioner for lgbtq+ Community is and you're listening to 3 CR.

Indeed Tory's, thank you, Todd 3 CR T's 3. CR 855 am 3 CR Digital 3, CR dot org, dot a you and 3 CR and demand. However, you're listening to this show with a live or thereafter. Thank you for tuning in, I'm Sally Gardner. I'm your host of the show which covers pansexual issues knowing no boundaries of sex or gender and we were preceded by out of the blue from 11:30 till noon, every Sunday, diving deep for marine use, as they always do, covering a range of issues. The effect this week's show covered the

It's all of nuclear blasts on marine life, which is probably which, as I said, not something that's been discussed a lot and on another sort of environmentally type, what you do a type of thing. The other side of us is freedom of species, which looks at all things, animals, sort of land land and sea and air. And any other non binary Concepts in between Nick, Carolyn and all the crew doing it and Trev, doing a great job as they will at 1:00. But right now focus on Pansexual issues and just have to re jacket in the studio. I had my Richmond, sleeveless Pride, Guernsey, and a t-shirt on because I thought, ah, I saw that there's a Richmond gws giant a FLW match at 3:10 p.m. and when I went to book it, when I got into the studio, I just am in case I needed a ticket it's in Mildura. So I'm obviously because I don't have a VW with wings. Which red gum once compared to a light plane? I don't think I'll be

Going to that after all I don't I'm not hitting your what sort of millionaire do you think I am to help? They have a helicopter on on some side. Know I don't anyway and I've got a tickle in your throat anyway. Cleared the throat in time to talk about an article which was in the Sunday age two weeks ago and I only read it after I came off air and thought about it and I thought it's got to get a response from me will not got to I've chosen to you don't got to do anything really apart from

Um, maybe stop at red lights, but John finds article on the 9th of October. I was a protester. Now a protest has been directed at and me so. Oh dear, that's not. I just really have to say that's not a good start on my first time on the receiving end of a protest was confronting on Tuesday evening earlier about a week before that sorts that about the third or fourth or something, eight or nine noisy trans activist. Are they had to be quiet for you failed to shut down a forum. He was cheering at Uni of

Open and it's also an end. Oh, I'm sorry. John goes on to say until he started working. At the ABC in 1919 1989 he tended his share of protests. He threw a few water, bonds at the governor-general in the aftermath of the dismissal. None got remotely close. He joined race relations and other worthy and Noble causes.

I don't mind a good protest. I consider it a signifier of a healthy democracy. He then say, is he found it came as a shock to be accused of trans. Being accused of transphobia, creating a risk to other people's health and safety simply for wanting to have a discussion. No, that's why there wasn't. That's not why there was a protest. I don't know if there's been a right of reply given to those who organized the protest or to trans community and speakers were invited to represent different views at The Forum on the emerging role of benchmarking to

Diversity programs. And John rightly says, totally fair here. Much more can, and more must might be done to enshrine a safe and secure workplace for lgbti qa+ colleagues, the history and exclusion, and sometimes violence, they aimed at trans and gender diverse people must end. Well, you'll get my agreement there. John, no question there. Apparently, nobody was questioning desk for itself and, and Apparently. Yeah, you know, then here's the critical bit for me. Quote, this article another of our panelists, Linda Gail is a long-serving and distinguished member of the Australian Greens in a union official. Yes. And she was moved as a position of the coke of convener of the Victorian greens after some trans lobbyists. No trans people. Think you objected to some aspects of an internal greens discussion paper. She had written a few years before this.

Is where I have the biggest problem with this article and I will express my opinion. John, first of all, don't tell us what we think. That's means you've fallen for the sort of approach of people. Who start speaking for other people are objection to Linda Gail, is that what she wrote was trans phobic and under law in this country, it's up to us to Define that. If you look at case law, or if anyone looks at it, as I understand it, it's up to the group on the receiving, end of alleged vilification to Define it and I will use this next analogy calmly and logically. I am Jewish. Would I Neo-Nazi have a right to Define anti-Semitism? No and then John says, it's hard to comprehend. How a lifelong feminist left? Use devoted herself to a smorgasbord of progressive causes could be described as transphobic. Well, there's lots of things you can unpack. Their I often think that the self-described gender criticals are actually quite conservative in their views on sex and gender because they want to send us back to an idea that

Just two boxes of four billion and that was the objection that someone with the views of Linda Gail. Who, in our opinion, we believe is transfer our transphobic and could well be transphobic vilification. And if we're taking a plain language definition of vilification, it is behavior including speech that is designed to incite ridicule or hatred against a person for being part of a group or a group of people.

And some of the views of gender criticals really are ridicule. I've seen standard critical say world how to transgender people even believe they are who they are. Well, I think we know how can a whole group of people not know their own lives. That is irrationality in itself. And so, I really object to this idea that John can Define transphobia. So then goes on to say, freedom speech is an essential ingredient in any functioning democracy. So I'm exercising my non-media, John

And free speech. He then says well, good free speech, never means open slather. They're all sorts of qualifiers including laws on defamation and hate speech. Well, see this is where things go wrong, people, speak for other people and it's got to be done, you know, done carefully. I'm mysterious how some people in the trans Community become so aggressive in sin serious. Well, I can answer that for you. John many people in the trans Community. We're sick. It's a bit Rich to say that we have to be 100% nice.

Nice and polite and calm 100% of the time, however you want to Define nice and polite and calm. When we have faced in this country alone, so much nonsense for 9 years, and particularly, since 2016. And we haven't had significant enough support for particularly from people in positions of influence, in powerful institutions. But what gets me about John is I Douglas off my shelf this morning, way back in 2003. There was a video produced by

To trans people D McLaughlin and Patricia church called and please like this, I will say content not on the nannies. Turn probably wouldn't be used anymore, but it is what it was in historical context, m2f our journey in gender identity and declaring any possible interest when I was doing a presenting a program on trans issues on another Community radio station. Yours truly is in it. Not that that's any major interest. I don't think and John pet. Jon faine is the narrator.

Do. And so the other thing I wanted to say, John is that old song about the oppressed becoming the oppressors and I think that that's, unfortunately, we've become and I was half tempted today to play a song for you by Kevin Johnson called over the hills and far away. About a protester who becomes mayor and starts building freeways and then someone Scrolls things across his driveway, I just ask you to think about that. John have you really stopped and listened.

What our concerns are before, you've written your piece and this idea about diversity of opinion, when people do hate speech, I'm sorry. No. And again, it is up to the group on the receiving end of alleged hate speech, to Define it for the reasons I gave, but like to get people's reasonable thoughts, constructive logical thoughts. If you have them, just go through the ways to contact the show out of the pan 855 at gmail.com SMS. 614

4 5, 6, 7 5, 1215 tweet at sell gold said so and that's the bottom line. And also Facebook, Sally goldner and out of the pan 3 CR at 55 and Melbourne Kayleen has popped in with excellent. This example of who defines what phobic is totally agree with that. And yeah, in the meantime, well I'm going to go lead us in with something better.

He's a track. It's the original version of a billy Bragg track sexuality and tell you why I'm going to play it in line with the next segment of the show after we hear from it. 3 CR 855 am 3 CR Digital 3, CR dot org dot a you and 3 CR on demand out of the pan with Sally.

3 CR 855 am 3 CR Digital 3, CR dot org dot EU 3 CR on demand out of the pan with Sally first broadcasting known through one every Sunday afternoon, discussing pansexual issues knowing no boundaries of sex, gender and well maybe not so much genre. We've got music of all the non binary kinds country, western and rock. That was some rock with black down to Bondi from mental as anything zat's pres Obama, go their second album in 1978.

Memory Sadie 1992, a regimen best attract and went past black town for the first time in my life. So I thought I'd climb yesterday. So I thought I'd play it apropos of nothing prior to that. We heard Billy Bragg and the 90s version with 90s lyrics of his songs, sexuality, which is a nice lead into a beautiful article that really got a big rainbow tick. Ellingham Rainbow Elephant stamp from me during the week in the new Statesman. What?

Jk Rowling and John Cleese, get wrong about cancel culture, which is a very hard term to Define in the first place. And one wonders, whether it's just another of these vague. Meaning emotive terms. That people pull up to try and stop actual debate happening. Along with social engineering is one politically correct or incorrect sort of virtue signaling. All those sorts of emotive terms that are often said in sarcastic tones.

And yes, you can go to Wikipedia definition and say that it's used a form of ostracism in which someone is thrust out of social or professional circles, whether online social media in person and those subject to this ostracism of said, to been canceled. Well thing that I always say, is who cancels whom, well, if someone makes a remark, that is hate speech. Well, aren't they canceling themselves? But of course, it's always the right. Say, on the left, the canceling, papal or overwhelming,

Ali so-and-so, this article by Billy Bragg was just really tapped into where the answer lies on this faux debate. And how we can really just sort of call this faux debate out in itself. And, you know, sort of the article begins. These are Billy Bragg's words, quote last week in an interview with Mary laughs roster up at Cheltenham, literature Festival, Graham Norton, UK, TV host. Venture that cancel count culture is another word for accountability. Well, I'm not quite sure about that.

But accountability is what it is and and Norton then went on to say that terms of Transit would be eliminating to talk to trans children and their parents rather than amplifying the opinions of a celebrity or author, even a very good one. Now, that's a reasonable opinion, obviously, trans people know our own lives and when it comes to trans mine whores, I would hope that supported parents would know and I really like this.

Just so much good stuff in this. I'll make sure I pop the link into it. I won't link John's article. Sorry, John. I have long believed that what the right wing media called cancel culture is nothing more than the tendency of reaction was to cry wolf when conducting a rearguard action against the progress made by minorities over the past half-century. Yes. So Brad and not were then he accused of supporting threats to people who disagreed,

With the trends sort of approach. Now, I don't support death threats course. I don't. And this is where we'll just get a Content note, going for a minute on transphobia, but I would hope that JK Rowling and others of similar viewpoints and I'm using JK as the straw case because of this article. I hope I look forward in just under a month time when we get to trans day of remembrance that they condemn the murders of trans people for being trans and last year

Cool. Calm thing to talk about there with 379 own reported murders. Now that, of course, puts caveat saint for a start, we can't get reporting from all 220, plus countries in the world because we don't have the resources, the connections. We don't know if they're being reported, yada yada yada. And yeah, I never hear the gender criticals or fundamentalist religion or others. Give an unconditional condemnation of these sorts of murders, murders.

People because they are from a group of people and don't just happen because out of nowhere, they happen. Because people have negative views of a certain group in the first place and therefore it has to be said that. I wonder what would happen if we didn't have the extreme negative views? We have from The Usual Suspects, who would let's say disagree with my Approach on trans and the approach of a large majority, if not all trans people, The Usual Suspects coming under for large grouping, Moments, repeat elements of religion. Fear-mongering elements of politics elements, repeat elements of media, who want to use trans issues for Ratings points and click bait and what's left of newspaper sales. And so called gender criticals, let's hear them this upcoming trans day of remembrance, unconditionally condemned transphobic murders. No ifs. No ands. No buts. I'm not going to be waiting too long though. So Norton, Graham Norton after throwing.

Support behind trans, people, deleted his Twitter account. So, you know, he's been canceled, ha ha. And so I think that this is, you know, where these debates go wrong and Brad goes on to say, freedom of expression, gives us the right to offend provided our statements, a generalized rather than directed at individual while not quite sure. What maybe I did agree with that, but those who offend should expect to be held accountable for their behavior

Behavior. I'm going to say that again quote but those who offend should be expect to be held accountable for their behavior, underlying 48 98, font italics, bold green highlighter pen or something and celebrity confers no protection. If anything if you're a celebrity need to take greater responsibility for a position of prominence and influence, whether it's in politics, media, religion or wherever else, or in the if we're talking smaller ponds in the lgbtqia+ communities,

No take responsibility. But and then goes on, Brad goes on to say freedom of expression does not mean freedom from consequence. I'll holla, just Hallelujah to this in a secular sense, of course, rolling construed that the final caveat misconstrued that the final that final caveat. When expressed by both Norton me, I can't speak for Norton. He would recognize it threats directed as individuals. A defense indefensible, I would agree with that.

And I agreed no one should be threatening JK Rowling in my proof of that was when I'm JK Rowling. What did get some death threats? If you use a guy seemed on transmitter and just said no stop it on social media, well, strand, social media, whatever. And the problem is, and this is where I brag has it just right on the bullseye. Again, the failure of democratic societies to hold individuals to account for their actions had layers to a drift towards authoritarianism over the last few years. Well, this is right. When we don't hold corrupt Ministers of parliament to

Up for their actions. As we did, as not didn't happen in this country for nine years. If Donald Trump somehow, squeaks out of responsibility for any alleged wrongdoing, in relation to January 6, 2021, I'd better be able to careful. They're not threatened any inquiries or anything, but anyway, Free Speech absolved. The idea that Free Speech absolves, the speaker from any consequences as made social media, a cauldron of rage and slander. Absolutely. And

Look I'm, you know, sort of the first to say that you've got to stop and think on social media, you know that count to ten thing and think and think and think before you post, I'm the first to say that I've, you know, I've been reactive at times but you know, we more make mistakes. It's whether we learn from them and, you know, sort of it must. And if we balance this sort of idea of

And freedom of expression and accountability. Then we will get better outcomes or round, but unfortunately some people won't and some sort of ideas will not do that, and it's time that, you know, I sort of we did it, kalin's popped in to say here here, definitely want to hear others like that author. Condemning trans murders. Yeah, well, let's see if that happens. So, yeah, we will, as I say, I'm not

Holding my breath but you can only put the idea out to the universe. I mean, it would be a kind thing to do to condemn transphobic murders and hate crimes of any sort so on your Billy Bragg and the thing that I should add about sexuality. If I didn't already the track Belly Bag, Billy Bragg track was that Bragg sort of, you know, you rewrote the lyrics to sexuality, which was

Julie 1991. When the world was more focused on binary, to be more inclusive of trans rights to his song if he wants to do an updated version. So he can something that has someone who likes performing in sometimes sings, by was doing covers. I'd sometimes change the words to be queer inclusive, as well of cover songs. Anyway, sometimes I think that people who just want to say what they want to not face consequences, what's a form of greed. You can't have your, you know, your speech cake and eat it too.

And this track from a album that I Revisited during the week because I got a CD copy to play, whereas only had a cassette. And next Sunday, the poly social should be a happening.

An abundance of that. But coming back to police issues. I didn't quite work out. Unfortunately, I wanted to get someone on from no police at Pride to talk about a community Forum which I believe now is sold out and here's and hyenas this Thursday. And this is about no police at pride. And I'm, well, aware that this is a potentially emotive issue and I'm well aware. There's a range of viewpoints, but I'm not sure if there's going to be online access to this sir.

Event or whether they'll be any sort of outcomes recorded. But in December 20 21 Victoria Police held a community and policing panel to discuss. Police accountability, transparency, and low levels of Community, Trust the, this is what I'm no police at Pride.com, Community Forum says. So I'm quoting. The event was closed to Media attended by armed police and hosted by a pro police media Organization for those, in other reasons, the event was attended Madam. You are representatives of

This organizations with very little Community representation, we believe the community deserves a space to honestly discuss these issues. So this coming Thursday evening, there's a free rainbow forum and I have heard from three. Totally separate sources that the event back in December. Last year was pretty gay, streamed, difficult questions shut down and those who are more marginalized, not really represented. So I think there's some reasonable opinion.

Yin there and the event the come up coming on Thursday. I'm just to progress the conversation about the difficult relationship between Victoria Police and rainbow communities, and explore issues ready. Their participation at Pride, their fundraising to cover costs and pay for speakers. So, pitch in, if you are able, you can donate via Humanity, 6, or via direct bank transfer, you can click hyper links on this page. No police at Pride.com, slip forward, slash Community forum and they'll be a presentation and panel.

And some of the panelists I will do on our horror from Vixen Victoria's. TSX worker organization will be there and so that they will be awesome. As always poor kid who's a queer hiv-positive activist lawyer and writer whose we'll line our communities Tarney. No nurse Williams are proud gun. Gemara bindle order Yoda and Torres, Strait Islander person former and Arab islands and an organizer for warriors of Resistance. And also a filmmaker amongst other things and also works as Community Legal educator at Victorian, Aboriginal legal service, a very important perspective. And with Cory who's a trans abolitionist, social worker and they are part of Beyond bricks and bars, the trans and gender diverse D car, serration project. So some great range of perspectives there that are really, really important. So hopefully we can find out what's going on in that. I don't

Break any privacy of the event. It should also be said, there will be no pulley. Victoria police were not invited, so people can feel safe to attend. Now, as I say, there are a range of views on this. Some people say, well, do we try to call in police and other people say they're not coming along fast enough. They're all reasonable opinions, but if we are able to get anything that comes out of that, it's a very critical issue. And I can only on this one. Speak from two perspectives as a travel three perspectives, as a trans person.

Ian, I'm well aware of the issues for Trans people and police. By Alliance had a squad of police marching against us. After we signed a no police at Pride petition. We have photographic evidence to prove that. So we felt very intimidated by that, I can't speak obviously for sex workers, I'm not a past or present sex worker, although I'm aware of the issues. Thanks to people like Dylan and Jane green and others from fix and Collective and other sex work organizations. And now

We're of issues for people of color. And of course, where there's intersections that will sort of double or quadruple, etc. Those sorts of things, so hopefully, we'll hear more about it in the future. Be interesting to see what comes out of it. And put, it might also be that there could be some talk about it on in your face, from 4:56 Fridays or queering the are three to four Sundays. I better get out of here. Make Way for freedom of species and take it out today with a bit of a midnight oil track. A bit of an environmentally type of Tarkine from Midnight oils. Fantastic release resist from about 12 months ago. Thanks for tuning in to out of the pan. I'm Sally goldner. Catch you next week.
