Panoply panorama panpipe pansy aha pansexual: knowing no boundaries of sex or gender, sound interesting? Then join Sally on Sundays at noon for out of the pan. All those gender questions making you think too hard? Whether it's transgender bisexual polyamorous or beyond will throw those questions into the pan and cook up the answers for you. So go on push that gender envelope. Only on 3 CR 855 am digital and 3 CR dot org. Dot au

3 CR 855 am 3 CR Digital 3 CR dot org dot a u and 3 CR on demand out of the pan with Sally first broadcasting noon, through one Australian eastern Daylight Savings Time. Well, we can say every Sunday afternoon back now in full swing or roots or reggae or Western swing for 2023, 3 CR proudly broadcast from the lands of the Wurundjeri people of the Kulin nation and we pay respects to elders past present and emerging hello to any Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people listening. And we acknowledge that all the lands on this big island and most, if not all of the surrounding smaller ones are stolen and have never been truly ceded. And that reconciliation is very much an ongoing process. I'm Sally Goldner I use the pronouns she her and welcome to out of the pan a show, covering pansexual issues knowing no boundaries of sex gender genre and I use the pronouns she her and welcome to listeners of all genders including but not limited to ladies and gentlemen. I've had too much coffee this morning, so I did have to get up early, I have just flown in from Kuarna lands on a big bird, a big silver one. Having been to the Better Together conference. I'm going to talk a lot about that. There's lots of Summer news to catch up on queer news and things. What are coming up?

That we can also talk about as well, and of course, the critical news and I'm still just waiting to get actual confirmation on one of the headlines is, apparently according to the Sunday Times in Perth, the critical news of great relevance to this show is that Perth has put in a bid to host WrestleMania. I got it out of the way within six minutes. Anyway, there's the wrestling reference.

Huge picture. It's looking like the hulkster brother on the front page re Ripley The Strain hero Logan. Paul West Australia gets in the ring to host sporting spectacular. Anyway that's nothing to do with out of the pan. That's just my weed. Proclivities, if you want to contact the show you can do. So on out of the pan 855 at gmail.com SMS 6, 1 4 5 6, 7 5 1215. You can tweet at sell gold set so and that's the bottom line and look for posts on Facebook my page, Sally Gardner and out of the pan 3 CR 8550 Melbourne. Remember any opinions expressed on the show are strictly my own including who should win the the events happening at elimination chamber which I think is just getting underway about now. If you want a snail mail in power box 1277 Collingwood 3066, might be something triggering on the tape the show today possible, mentions of discrimination within rainbow communities, ourselves AKA lateral.

Still a T1 possible example, 1-800 1845 272 call switchboard or rainbow door one eight hundred seven two nine three, six seven SS 0 4 8 0 0, 1 7, 2, 4 6, 4 rainbow door as distinct from this program and later on last week's show, which is one of the many exciting things that's been going on. It's all in the words of built Lori. It's all Happening Here in queer world. Have you seen

It in a couple of messages, just as the show, I think was finishing up last week and said happy, Midsummer thanks to our outs for outside broadcast. Thank you for the Alban easy spill. I'll come back to that in a second. Yes, there's some political news and yeah, good to hear from. You is have you hope your 2023 and everyone's 2023 is underweight for Good Start. There's lots to catch up on since the last Live program of last year, it was great to be at the street party, but just need to fuel need to just sort of

Yes of clear the the in try so to speak. So yeah, the straight party last week, what a great Vibe and you know, it's just so awesome to have be out there with everyone and have all of our 3 CR queer specific or queer focused shows doing shows my longtime friend and colleague, James doing a special show at 1:00, the relatively new team, but they're settling in very very fast and great to have them picks funner who are

Lee on Saturday, afternoons, had a bonus show on Sunday to and then queering are, who are, of course, back today at 3 p.m. there as well, in their usual through p.m. timeslot. And we have a new, a new world heavyweight champion. No. A new Champion to add to that. It's like, you've got the universal Champion, the WWE, the Intercontinental, the US. And now we have another championship belt and that is Val's Cafe broadcasting for half an hour, every Monday on 3 CR as well. So yeah, it was a great vibe. There is over here.

And I'm glad we could be with you. I just got to say, personally, I don't we eat one of the things about Community radio. You don't get to do stuff with your your crew so much and you pass like ships in the night. So did pull that together was really good and thanks to the 3 CR will say behind the scenes team. And of course, thanks to the crew from out of the blue for diving deep for the Marine news, as they always do from 11:30 to noon every Sunday afternoon, prior to out of the pan.

So, covering all things marine and shark and Ray and all sorts. And it was a great Vibe at the street party. I think it's, you know, it was only this, it's only been the second one in this iteration. I believe I do vaguely remember somewhere in my Dusty brain cells that in there are a couple in the northern suburbs on Brunswick Street. In 1996, I do remember being at one and then there are a couple down Commercial Road, then it sort of disappeared. Pride March became the thing and it's great but it's nice to happen.

There is of course a long history of quidam in the in a north and I think that what started off as a one off time last year celebrating with the delayed celebration of 40 Years of decriminalization of homosexuality. I think that I think this is locked in. I thought it's, you know, any time you do an event for the first time, you always take away learnings, I think the layout was much better this year, in terms of how that happened just seemed more better spaced out so to speak.

Eek and good range of stalls. Good good vibe. I just think we've got something. We the quiz pulled on the bit. The weather for the big three outdoor queer events in Melbourne, / Nam, this Midsummer all great both there and at pride and at carnival so lots happening really really awesome stuff and wonderful to be part of it and yeah I look forward to doing more. I think we Need to get our quit team together for so if you're and all our great listeners more often I thought it was just a very uplifting moment personally and I hope very much for everyone who listened and you can listen to it. It's on our what the is on our website. There's a full podcast. There's the usual out of the pan section that I've podcast but there it is. It's I'm on the front page, still

Or two, you will be able to find it in terms on our website. There is a full sort of link of the full four hours so make sure if you want to listen again or you missed it the first time away, you go. So really, really awesome that that happened. Yeah, a lots going on. And yep, just so much diversity out there. So yeah. And that's been one of the events.

It's during Midsummer and I don't do it on knowledge in. I do want to acknowledge that. Of course, for some people, it's still difficult to be out. And about there are concerns about covid and being immunocompromised. We don't want to forget anyone or think that it's all back to normal, but it certainly feels somewhere in the 85 to 90 percent bracket jokes aside. I had had the great Good Fortune have been and to wrestling events on the Saturday night before Pride, March, and one, then on the Saturday,

It before the straight party and packed out. Not just because on the second one, buddy Matthews world, renowned Australian wrestler was on the card, but it just seems like Melbourne is coming back to life after the very, very difficult and isolating against our will. Well, when I say against their will or not the, you know, we had to do some things but, you know, sort of in a way that we wouldn't have preferred or chosen is a better way to put that. Sorry, it does feel like

At Melbourne's back, I went to a few music gigs over the summer which I'll one of which farewell to farewell tour for the magical Sunny boys, as opposed to the razes, the gloves in the Daddy Cool's, they weren't the support acts and that was great. Also, one that came out of one of light shows from late last year, on the 11th of December interviewed transman jewels and went to his launch gig and there are two great support bands. One of whom was Queenie and

And I went to one of her gigs to launch her second single and she'll be on the show in a few weeks. So it's just brings back all this connection to have it there and it's been really, really good. I have a chat about Pride March carnival on. There's a couple of things that we do have to tackle on the political front or a few Albin, easy World Pride and a saddle thing from the point of view of Melbourne Community. But in the meantime, we'll also going to chat about Better Together which was over as I said on.

Garner lands now called Adelaide. And by godness, here's a song by Paul Kelly. I wonder what it's called 3. CR 855 am 3 CR Digital 3, CR dot org, Dot and 3 CR on demand out of the pan with Sally.

I n. Hmm, where else would you hear about Progressive economics? Well, you can definitely hear about it on 3 CR, radio mmt between 5:30 and 6:30 p.m. the second and fourth Friday of each month radio mmt.

3 CR is radical radio. And that means more than just alternative current affairs and political coverage where radical because we're an independent media Outlet owned and operated by the community where radical because we give communities that control of their own shows with their own music, in their own languages, where radical, because we provide a media platform from communities to build their own power, to create social change, become a subscriber, and support, radical radio, call us on 03.

Thanks for your company and lots of programs constantly joining the 3 CR team. You just heard about one of them, their radio mmt and that's

Some of reasons to keep supporting 3 CR and it's being a subscriber. It's a great way to support the station, just a little bit of chipping, if you can afford it, and every bit makes a difference, 3 CR does not do commercial sort of advertising with very careful on who is allowed to sponsor the station. That's part of our values and philosophies and all the things and yeah so really really important.

That if you can please supporters and tell your friends. Well, tell people. You don't like if you've got those sort of people then why don't care if they subscribe? Heck no don't have Rupert. Murdoch's bank account I didn't say that at all. What I was going to say is yeah, of Todd. Fernando was at better to get a talk about that in a second, but I'll be sort of relatively chronological and just cover.

Were the two other, you know, sort of the, as I said it now feels like there's the big three events and we'll get to its bit. Like. Well, if we have one more in during January February, we'll get to the big four bit like the big four pay-per-views of World Wrestling Entertainment. I didn't say that. Anyway, we've always had two big events as part or pretty much always as part of the midsummer Pride season. And one is, of course, it's summer carnival, the other is pride, March and can't.

Was pretty much back to full strength of say about 2020 afternoon. Nothing happening in 2021 and in 2022 12 months or so ago. Was unfortunately not Micron wave and things were down. It just seemed like was it about 50 to 60 percent of capacity but again Bea utiful whether put quiz in charge of the weather even in Melbourne and you can achieve anything not too hot and a very good day pretty

A packed, it really built up to sort of pact levels. My got, I do the early shift, get there at 10:00, and then go home at four and have a lie down, or something like that, and a glass of warm milk or something. But it was really, really busy. Now some people have said that there's a lot more corporate and Commercial stores. Well, that is true but there's also I think a lot more community stores. There was a great warm atmosphere, very inclusive as well and

Think it, you know, they want there is space for everyone, you know, who wants to be his part of our communities, and or Allies, and then two weeks after that was Pride. March. And well, as I think people say nowadays because Pride March ever, as I think the saying goes certain just

I've since I my first Pride March was 1998, which I believe was the third ever, I've only missed one since here in Melbourne / Nam.

And by goodness, it was by far, the biggest number of groups people people marching and people spectating. Now normally when you do you join the parade starts at the will call it the Fitzroy. The sort of, you know, some killed a junction in there in Johnson oval and from Ian Johnson oval down to Canterbury Road. Normally The Spectators are a bit thin on the sidelines. They were pretty chokers and of course my after that all the way through to the end.

Esplanade by goodness. Good goodness gracious me as someone once said, chocolate out. And of course, people waving on balconies. Great Vibe people. So supportive, giving everyone a big cheer of all groups very welcoming of particular parts of the community. And I think, you know, that was just absolutely awesome and really put some things back on gear there. I didn't stay too long afterwards at the Event at the end, but certainly seems to be all happening there as well. Great range of groups. So, great to see so many young people in schools because the once again, the weather was just right on cue and people who perhaps some may have otherwise not been able to match due to food, being too hot people such as older and disabilities /, similar, we're all able to be, there was absolutely quite at the name of a band of that Ed Cooper who was

In the science used to have the yard went on forever. The March went on forever, and that's what we like. So great to see that I haven't didn't get out to a lot of other events during Midsummer it for personal reasons. But really, really good to see that the big three are back and that there was that feel of community. So very, very excellent. And yes, Todd Todd, Fernando, whose little message we heard just a while ago. Certainly was, well, not in the building, he was on the Streets and in the Parks and everywhere else as Todd is nine to do. So it's really good to see these things happening. It does give that sense of energy and I think that's something I've missed for the last two or three years. I do feel energy. I know that seems very abstract that's me and to get some nice gentle but uplifting queer energies. It's it really is the totally clean energy equivalent of plugging your vehicle in for a recharge at the night.

So to speak and it's really, really enjoyable to to have. So yeah, lots happening prior to the messages. We heard from Paul Kelly and Adelaide talk about Better Together in the second half of the show. We opened up with the anthems Jonah and pride and well I'll play a track next from a CD CD. Yes I'm an oldie, I'm still doing it. I like these things that I picked up I'll tell you where I picked it up afterwards. Here's Carl Perkins, rock out rock and roll and rockabilly out with honey. Don't 3 CR 855 am 3 CR Digital 3, CR dot org dot U 3 CR on demand out of the pan with Sally.

Rock and roll 3. CR 855 am 3 CR Digital 3, CR dot-org Donahue and 3 CR on demand out of the pan with Sally first broadcasting known through one every Sunday afternoon. Thanks for your company. Carl Perkins and track called honey, don't, which is a famous one which often Ringo Starr used to take the vocals on with the Beatles And there's a great clip on YouTube of Ringo, doing lead vocals on that from 1985. It's from an album called country chartbusters, which is one of five different CDs, one of which was a double pack. And one was a triple pack that I purchased on the last night of activity. At the here whole. I almost feel like saying set content notes sadness here, you know, there's so many good times. There's so much of our communities Grassroots history, is there so much of our diversity and particularly

As I trans by and person. Who's all the stays open to multiple ethical relationships. I don't really know what my label is in that area. Let's just say queer and I feel we've lost a big Grassroots setting. It's great that there's more you know, sort of local councils and other premises. We can go now but this was our little space and people say what about the pride Center? I I think it is fair to say the opinion and I've heard many people say they feel it's very corporate down. There doesn't have a

Diversity feel. It doesn't have the warmth and I will say that I feel that way too and we have a right to express opinions. You know, it's about debating things and I don't know what would fix that. I'm not sure what the answers are, but I just feel we've lost that little cozy. Grassroots, sort of place that we needed whether it was to read books, or buy books or whatever, or rainbow Flags, or have a coffee and people say, well, can't you buy it online? Yeah, but it's about connection. There's

Match theme of today's show is connection. The three big, three events, the sense of connection that happened that we've missed and getting that energy and to, quote Dennis tenuto. The vibe. Why is it? I've always watched the castle when it's on TV, which it was a couple of weeks ago. And why is it that I always cry at the end? That's a debate for another time. They actually, there is then there's actually, without even thinking about it totally intuitive. Something in common. It takes us back to times when maybe there was

Some down to earth - and authenticity and honesty and principal and maybe hasn't waned as does that 20? And he whole I mean, it's great. That has no he knows is still down there at the pride Center but it does feel. I do have to say, sometimes it feels a bit invisible, you sort of walk in and sort of go down the back and look behind the pillars or something. I don't know. All I can say is to Crusader and team. I wish you all the best. Thank you for so many good times.

Thank you for so much community and it was fitting for me, personally, the, why was there on last Sunday night and the last ever show was my dear dear friend and Mentor, Julie Peters, who helped us build the transcommunity so much in Victoria through her authentic leadership doing her show. Julie, Peters is mutton subtitled some tight. Subtitled mutton is the new lamb, Julie, with her just self-deprecating with her authenticity, her voice.

To sing a few little bits and pieces here and there now and well I have the photo of Crusader Julie myself from the hair whole team, but I think it will be sorely missed. I wish I had a few billion lying around I'd died out and do something but it's not to be just don't have the, the billion, dammit one of those small obstacles. So anyway, as I say all the best to you Crusader, you were an ally of trans before. We had the word, your team has always been

I fight for diversity and you, in my opinion, always held space for all sorts of things. Even if you probably didn't agree with them yourself. And I think that's really important while we're at it this week or the last few days, these been the official kickoff for World prior to an issue. That's been debated, sort of vary hugely both in mainstream and in our own communities. And I just before I came on,

To the show via the means of social media found, this article by longtime Community contributed. Daniel readers on the Bad, Blood blog, Bad Blood, Bad Blood, dot blog, try saying that three times quickly with a mouthful of craft blue pack cheese, not feeling Pride Sydney, World Pride 2023 begins this weekend and I'm not feeling it, you know, and it's you've got to be Daniel says, you've got to be up.

Eight, and it's shiny, and judging from the corporate, add camp, and feature-length article on promoting first-person narrative campaigns. And Daniel says, I'm not feeling it, there was an article in the nine papers by Daniel wall, no will now game and has the style editor at Fairfax, which tried to touch on it saying that the pride? Well Pride lacked range and I would agree with some of that you know sort of

It does seem a very limited range of promotion and some people. So I will that get everyone else. You know, won't what it does is if you don't see yourself represented, you feel isolated and disconnected white. This is not my community and I'll come to the positive, flip side of that, before we get to the end of the show. And Daniel says here, quote his words, I describe Queer as coalitional politics among sexes in among sex and gender undesirables.

Of the recognition that we're all getting F.K, I'd buy the right. It's not an essentialist identity but a practice of community across differences in sexuality, gender identity. And identity, disability, embodiment sex, work, drug users Etc. My problem with pride is the way it strips out all the politics. We are fighting as queers in to bring into public conversation at papers, over them, with its faith in the discourse and legal process of Human Rights. And it's confident expectation that social acceptance of sex and gender diversity is in.

Inevitable. In the end is a liberal centrism in a nutshell and it frowns on the queer critique of the right prior to end up. After the really ugly battles, have been won and declared itself, the Victor thanking liberal Centrist and respectability politics. And then Daniel goes on to say, in this is where I just say subjectively, I agree with this. I fear an opportunity is missed. I wish for something like the two-day, queer thinking Festival that may have Marsden and Nikki Stevens organized, in 2018 and 19. Not a Prince with a 10 minute slot for every visiting LGBT luminary working in the human, UN Human Rights system. Rather a celebration of kriya critique that provokes its participants to consider how we can live in protest in community with each other. Celebrating our differences in effective opposition to the right and then says second and Daniel Tim far as I know is identifies a cisgender second this would have to be part of such event. We need to be talking about how we protect trans communities from Attack it.

Feels bizarre to me to be celebrating Pride which sees progress on LGBT rights is inevitable at a time when events in Australia the US and UK tell us every single thing we can be achieved can be undone in a matter of years and simply because our putative liberal allies the guardian, the New York Times can't get their head around. The idea that trans people are just trying to live their lives. Yep, you got it. I'll put a link to this blog post from Daniel into the podcast. You want. It goes up. I think this is just what we need to say. And look, I can't feel World, Pride.

The I've said this before. I will say it again. Mardi. Gras is the parent of will Pride Mardi. Gras has an abysmal history of biphobic vilification content. Note biphobia that said that, if you put buyer on your membership form for Mardi Gras, in the early days you were called before a panel and asked where you going to sabotage Mardi Gras. And yet, you know, you know as a rainbow Community as a whole, we ask for apologies from parliament's for past convictions. We ask for apologies from police forces for brutality in over the Last few weeks the Queensland Force has done that. We got apology from the Victorian, police force for the tasting nightclub rate in 2014 yet. We can't apologize to each other. We cannot get Mardi Gras to say by people, we treated you appalling lie. Well, Mardi Gras. This will be at your own Peril because frankly, you know, buys the biggest by plus regardless of particular, labels is the biggest sexuality under the rainbow. It's only going to get bigger, you will lose.

Market. If you can't even see that logic where you at, so now that's the bottom line. And at that sell gold said so, and I just feel that this is really, really disappointing that Mardi. Gras cannot do this and I can't go there until that happens and I won't go to World Pride. What everyone does is their choice. You know, we can agree to disagree, but I have a right to express my feelings and I just cannot see how this this can keep

Going on and welcome, everyone's thoughts on this, if they're expressed nicely, but we have, you know, we just did not seem to be holding space well enough in how we do these sorts of things. So there's my soapbox for the day, wouldn't it be a nice dream if we could find balance and all that sort of thing? Well, let's well, they're not a quiz on this song. Kind of

And we brought I broadcast between noon and 1:00 every Sunday afternoon coming up soon. Freedom of species are between 1 and 2 and today, Carolyn and Nick will be talking about Mobis new documentary, punk, rock vegan movie. Now there's some Holding space for all sorts of things. See diversity intersectionality in its way. Lots of multifaceted things. Sort of like Graham. Connor said The Great Australian Dream figure. There's an answer somewhere in between. See, she just got to get rid of binary thinking that's the thing here so. Yep. Good to see the freedom of species crew. First time, I've seen them for the year and they'll mean you'll be hearing their voices live very very soon if you're listening live to the show in less than 13 minutes,

It's at 2:00 Dazzle. Be looking after rotation today, he's lining up the tunes and just fine-tuning, so to speak as we speak and clearing the air with Jacob and team at 3:00. So, lots of reasons to keep your ears tuned to 3 CR by all the means of Technology. One more political thing. Of course, it's been announced in the last couple of week or so that Anthony Albanese e. Prime minister will be the first sitting prime minister to March.

Each in Mardi Gras and whereas in the past, do you say other Prime Ministers who might have had the opportunity albo to decide anyway, what does this mean? Look, it's a welcome step. There's no question there that that's a good positive sign and from the symbolic point of view, you know, and that sort of thing. So that's very, very welcome.

And then policy at a national level, we still to my knowledge, have heard, nothing specific, and proactive one. Any one thing on policy in now, nearly nine months since labor was elected, and that was the social security minister talking about Igbtiq A+ Family Violence, which is something we need to talk about and make sure that services are inclusive and don't have a heteronormative cisnormative assumptions.

But there's been a few reactive things thanks to advocacy by people. When the industrial relations law was updated last year. On lots of things. It finally was updated to include gender identity and the current definition of intersex status, and there was a commitment given to aren't update. Intersex status to variation of sex characteristics in both industrial relations, and the federal sex Discrimination Act.

But that's not really a comprehensive strategy or policy. It also should be noted, there is no lgbtiq, A+ employee at the Australian Human Rights Commission. No funding for such a position, and there's no commissioner. It's pretty thin on the ground. And so, I'm a great believer balance. Again, two words for today, connectedness and balance symbolism is great. You need to communicate. I'm a great believer in. This is something I would say.

The education. You've got to do the work to be diverse and then communicate you're doing it but one without the other isn't going to work. It's the old. Oh, we put a rainbow sticker on the door. See where inclusive and Nia will Marching In Mardi? Gras elbow is simply not enough and it highlights some of the issues that I think exists, in my opinion with a very sort of top of town, Sid approach from Sydney, which is not about Sydney. It's about how that city as the particular City it is is

Not keeping up with current issues last year that are certain large Sydney, based organization advertised a conference and said we want to talk about. I almost feel content note on this. The original advertising said emerging issues like by non-binary and Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander and queer emerging. Goodness Me are Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people, queer straight or otherwise have been here for tens of thousands of years.

So, as one Scenic said, emerging pink dollars, perhaps, so yeah, we've got that issue. But I will say, without we can hold space for everything because I have, as I said at the start of the show flown in this morning from Better Together, which does try very hard to live up to its name and I think did a pretty good job this time. Two days of conferencing. A great start with a well, a small long walk from the other side of the atom.

A driver with a smoking ceremony in, welcome to Country and then walking across to the Adelaide Convention Center, an amazing opening. Plenary just lots of five minute speeches. How many times to go to conferences, and you've got some wind bag, which I think I've been a windbag at times at one of these conferences going for 45 minutes. Well, this was just pop, pop, pop, pop, five minute speech, after five minute speech from a range of people, and it was great to see the first

One was given to a person from the ace communities and I want to give huge. Congratulations. There is now an ace Collective. The spread is bringing together a state and territory bodies to do with the A and that's wonderful news to see that happening. And so, you know, they the visibility for Ace is needed. I do get along to one Forum which highlighted some research on what Ace people are experiencing in medical systems and the denialism.

Lack of Ace awareness, you know, but also some good stories as well. Many many people spoke Todd Fernando Rodney Chrome row, Allen previous commission. One of the few people who only had to change half their business card when they change jobs, but I think speech of the day and I'll go and I'll put a link to this one in as well. Went to Jack Tomlin's and how we engage with people, which is this is where I like, Daniel readers article that I just quoted. It's all very well.

I think we've got a fair idea in Rainbow communities at least now of the wish list, even if people don't understand it and thoughts of allies have to that's the what. But it's the how interestingly week ago, I got given him a small book on leadership, which talks about how we sometimes get external externally focused on results in a business that could be achieving a sales Target. But he's leadership about internally how we operate what our values are, and yeah,

Yeah, I think that we need to do more of that. Yours truly gave a talk on daily respect within rainbow communities, which seemed to flow in a way from Jac Tomlins talk. I'm will hopefully get Jac Tomlins on out of the pan at some point to talk about her or and I'll see if I can get. I'll have a know, I have an audio of my thingummy. You do that my talk, lots of other great talks.

Alasdair Laurie on a similar theme homo truths about advocacy and concerns that you know, we're not engaging enough people in the right ways and to do the work. What else did? I see one wonderful session, which was about now, the exact title was hidden conditions, I'll use the word hidden aspects of ourselves hidden intersectionalities. So this could include mental health neuro Divergence, chronic illness to name.

But a few and this is something that I think, I don't know, I personally felt the most affirmed in those areas of my life. I have three hidden disabilities. I have experienced cyclothymia. Got it reasonably well, managed, but it's always there being a form of depression that's, or mental health situation. That's similar to bipolar 1 & 2. I have one leg slightly shorter than the other. I have one eye weaker than the other. They are hidden disabilities. People might not think about,

I'm recently when I had to get a health assessment someone said I'd you walk a lot like I said well I swim why don't you walk? I mean do I feel like I have to explain the whole thing that I have one leg slightly shorter than the others. It's not as mentally relaxing, blah blah blah but it's a hidden sense disability. Does it affect my life alone? It has it's affecting it less because going to learn to manage it. But people didn't listen. So it's a very affirming session on the fun side, the always in a minimum inimitable fraud.

Cuts and was there performing and yours. Truly probably sang to it. Loud from the audience in line with frock. I can feel a duet coming on and but most of all Abba, the the museum, the choir, a group of people from the Abba Museum in Sweden. During performances of ABBA songs. Can you not like ever? I don't I don't really think it's possible though, to not like them and so many great performances and Jason tries. It

Shane who grabbed a be he says that ABBA sort of saved him in the end when he was struggling to come out as a earlier in life. And so to see him get a sort of a vest and sing with the choir at the end was quite moving. And you should have seen the smile on his face, I will get some photos onto my personal Facebook page, in the next few days, of the whole shebang and on a radio, not just to finish off, I got to spend some time with. Well, my radio Mentor, lovely, Man by the name of John Jennings. Who's Dover to Adelaide to the Clare Valley, which is one of The Unsung or hidden hidden secrets of this big island. Absolutely beautiful. And if you're into it, a few beautiful beverages as well. I think I could become The Unofficial Ambassador on that front, lots of things to talk about. So a great conference, I felt it was inclusive from my point of view of my particular intersectionalities. I think I noticed lots of other inclusivity but of course not for me to comment on things that are not mine.

Very well organized. And this is how you do community. And the next Better Together will be in June 20, 24 in Geelong here in Melbourne, on in there. We don't have exact dates yet, why? And I'm still chuckling at this because we've got to wait for the AFL football. Draw to come out until we can decide which weakened our conference is on. There's just something that's tickling My Funny Bone about that, but start getting your thinking caps on about what you'd like to do if You're here in Naarm and surrounding lands. I better get out of here and make way for freedom of species. Once again, Moby's new documentary, punk rock vegan movie is the topic of discussion for today, for freedom of species will take it out today with another CD that I picked up at the end of hairs and Ian is along with the country Classics one. It's a bob down, huge hits and he's Bob singing, another Camp classic. I Will Survive. Keep surviving till next week when my guest is Grace Lee. I'm Sally Goldner catcher next week.
