Opened up today appropriately with Midnight Oil from the Earth and Sun and Moon album In the Valley because in Moonee Valley we have someone running for council and someone who's organized a great fundraiser to assist them. It is my pleasure to welcome to the 3 CR Studios Jody Kinnersly and Ellen Chan. Welcome. Hi Sally. Hey Jody good to have you with us. And if it's okay to ask can I check in with which pronouns you use event she/her pronouns and Ellen? Can I check in with you - sheet, they she vote. So we've got a diversity of people in the studio, which is always good because we love diversity Jody. I'll start with you. What why on Earth would someone stops aside to run for politics at any level seriously, what mode of what motivated you to do? Such a such a thing. Well, you know, I just want to make the world a better place sounds fair, but I really, you know, I'm running for local government in particular because I do have this sense that like I can make my own patch of the world better. I'm really worried about, you know, climate change and the housing crisis and yeah genocide in

Stein and

You know, I can sit sit sit at home worrying about those things so I can do what I can to try and look around at my neighbors and represent them and their Progressive values that I share in local government fair enough. That's that's a good enough answer to summarize it and Ellen.

Give us the overview. How do you fit into this situation? Because we're here to talk about an event called quiz to the front celebrating queer community and Artistry and moonee Valley. How do you fit in?

Through it all. So I am also a resident in me many Bali and so just doing a bit of work here to support Jody a local candidate. And so we thought would have this awesome quiz to the front event and you know in many Valley we do have a very diverse, you know, lgbtqia+ Community, but we don't really feel like at the moment. There aren't really kind of these events to you know,

To connect and with the LGBT community so we thought we just put it on a big. Yeah queer old party that always sounds like a good thing. Can we have enough queer parties? And of course, that's an unanswerable question, which is really really good. And now I'll continue with your own. You know, what's it who Who's involved in the in the queer put in the crew party?

From the will say Artistry front Okay. So we've got two really exciting drag queens. Yeah, Tilly Capulet and Melissa intent who will be obviously showcasing some of their drag performances are really excited to have them in terms of yeah other musicians, we've got Jackie who is a Chinese Cambodian queer artist actually bumped into him randomly on the street.

He was busking on swanston Street the other day and I was like that was the first time I actually met him properly in person. Uh, so that's a bit. There was a bit cute. Also, we've got Max or rora who is an intersect non-binary musician and they'll be playing a solo acoustic set. And then we've also got moaning Lisa, which I played lead guitar in and yeah my friends their child,

And Haley going to be jumping on it and acoustic set with me so we don't often do those. So it'll be a cute little rare opportunity and we'll play some covers as well. And then finally we've also got some own spittle and she's actually going to be releasing an album thinking a couple of weeks. So she's a queer singer-songwriter and a Survivor and we're really excited to have her because We'll also be bringing two choirs. Wow, which will probably be I think about 30 people in the choir. So with our rainbow voices and the Divine divas and the rainbow voices. I believe are coming all the way from Kyneton to be a part of this event. Wow, you two choirs. No, let's not just not just want ya to so that's what's a huge event. That's a lot of great.

Entertainment, which is really really amazing and it's good to see, you know, sort of, you know, all that sort of queer representation. That's really really wonderful as well. Jody Now sort of drill it. Let's come back to you, you know sort of, you know, you want that visibility in the community, but how does that if I can ask connect specifically to you and why you know as a queer person and how you decided to run for run for office.

As I say, yeah. Well, I'm proud to be running as a queer woman and something that's really kind of made me more aware of maybe radicalized my feminism over the last year or so is that I had a baby and I've heard that from a lot of women that having a baby can really bring in bring to the fore that their feminism which is always been

Been the driving force behind my politics anyway, and I've been interacting with a lot of Institutions through that process. Yeah, and my little Rainbow family has had sort of not not always found that easy we've particularly we had experience with many Valley Council accessing their Maternal Child Health Services that sort of surprised.

Us that they at some point referred to Father's like that we had a we had a parent's group where it was great. We were really enjoying the parents group. They say Partners welcome and then at certain point we got through a text message saying father's not welcome know which leg my partner is not a father. So that's not a great feeling but and obviously there's lots of non birthing.

Ants who for, you know, we could have quite understand that there might you might want to have a session that was only for birthing parents and their you know, like unique sort of challenges that they might be experiencing after birth. They was a bit. Yeah. It was a bit of a shock in 2024 to see that whole group referred to as just father's yeah. Yeah. So just just to call so well to put it into that part of the story.

Instead of what happened when you raise this with city of many value, you know, the mean of the council did deal with it really? Well, they sent through some feedback and I you know, I pointed out to them that at some point I would be going back to work and my partner would become the primary caregiver and we felt that these Services were really essential that they were inclusive for both of us. Yeah because we both need that support and they Were really good they sort of offered, you know, how they could change their services in the future. But also think about how to how to support us through our parenting Journey at the moment, but it's still I guess put a bit of a sour mmm. It's our feeling on the whole whole the whole thing that we were quite looking forward to to be honest making new new parent friends. Yeah.

Yeah, when something is dear to your heart and it sort of gets low, you know sort of it gets dented. So tainted tainted. Yeah, it's sort of a it's more than a taint in a way because there's you know that degree of extra feeling involved in it. Yeah, so I'm sure that they're their hearts in the right place and they do want to provide inclusive services, but maybe maybe the training hasn't been adequate or maybe they are not talking enough.

Off to the lived experiences of residents who and and really understanding how to not just I had noticed that in the past. They'd run a lgbtqia community Advisory Group that's real Focus had been on promoting lgbtqi issues in the community, but I didn't see in their terms of reference. Like I sense that though that reference group would actually inform the services that Council run because that's super important right the game.

Lancelot interfacing with the community all the time in these like vulnerable moments right like new parents. Yeah, and they should be listening to the community and lived experience about how to deliver those services in like a really inclusive way. Absolutely. So all right, we'll have a we're gonna have some of the music now and I'll come back to Ellen to talk about this one because I pray scheduled the track. Carrie. Tell us a little about Carrie. I want a girl. Okay, so Kari,

Well, the song is the name. Carrie actually comes with Carrie Brownstein from sleek and out. Awesome. We're musician and we release this song I think back in 2018. But yeah, it's it's a queer Anthem. Basically just yelling out in the top of your lungs. You know, I want a girl fair enough. Let's have a look listen to it Carrie by moaning Lisa and it is on 3 CR 855 am 3 CR Digital 3. CR dot org Dot 3 CR on demand out of the pan with Sally.

If you are traveling to Saudi Arabia for highs this year, you can reduce your risk of Contracting diseases such as Middle East Respiratory Syndrome disease or most Middle East Respiratory Syndrome or MERS is a rare, but severe respiratory disease symptoms can include fever cough

I 3 CR support.

You're listening to 3cr community radio 855 am.

Indeed you are 3 CR 855 am 3 CR Digital 3. CR dot org dot Tau 3 CR on demand out of the pan with Sally and guests Jody. Kenzley and Ellen Chan talking about quiz to the front celebrating queer community and Artistry in moonee Valley a fantastic event coming up in a couple of weekends time and we were talking just before we heard from The Fabulous moaning Lisa and their version of Carrie. I want a girl

And we're talking Jody about your sort of reasons for running and that sort of thing. I had suppose I have to be diplomatic and neutral as a presenter if you get elected, I'm sure you're wanting to say when you know, what would be the things you'd like to get involved in to make sure many Valley moonee Valley Council does on any front, but obviously this is a quid program. So let's talk queer stuff as well. Yeah. Well queer people are suffering from the housing crisis.

He's right. Now we kind of all are but that to me, you know, we the way we campaign in the greens is that we go out and talk to people we Dornoch we find out what's going on in the local area and I have to say like the housing crisis is a is really friend of mine for so many people and so the policy that we're running on in moonee Valley is to look at our rates scheme and Charge people higher rates for leaving their property is vacant seems like there's about close to 10% of properties in Flemington that are left vacant. Meanwhile, we've got people who don't have anywhere to live, right who and and if we can put pressure on people who are land banking or just, you know, leaving their houses vacant that puts pressured downward pressure on whence.

Gives people places to live, you know housing is a human right? So this is this is like a the big change that we that our Declan and I is candidates for many Valley Council of really talking to a community about at the moment and I have to say people are really receiving that well. Yeah. No, look, he's a big issue. Look I just the last week my have to pay for the first time at 14% rent increase and the parallels cold.

That was a compromise. So yeah all the feels. I'm not in moonee valley. But of course, it's everywhere around least Metro Melbourne. I'm not sure if it's affecting Regional as much but certainly of course in capital cities around so-called Australia. It is definitely happening. So yeah housing is a big one. What else also interested in making sure that the many Valley Pride Community Advisory Group is back up and running making sure that Council services are included.

Rusev like we were just talking about before the before the song because

You know, there are lots of lgbtq. I people I look I know from from living there and and there there there and ready to support the council and delivering their services. I don't know. I don't know why Council of not been liaising with that reference group recently, but it's a great resource. Yeah, so it's still there. It's still officially formed the reference group, but it's there's no liaison.

That's very mysterious. I'd be you know that same yeah, I'm my logical brain is just melted on that one. Why would you have reference group if you're not going to refer to it anything else? We've also I've been hearing a lot from people especially in Flemington is that people don't have garages and want to think about electric vehicles. Yeah. So meaning Valley Council really has an opportunity to invest in

In invest in like infrastructure, like charging station infrastructure that that people can't do themselves if they don't have garages Flemington is like got a lot like a lot of historical small-block Victorian Terraces, you know Bluestone lanes and and yeah, most people just don't have garages but also really worried about the climate crisis. So I think many Valley could

Could lay down that definitely so and there's one other area that you're interested in I think as well of promoting which sort of links into the events that you're wanting. Yeah, that's right. So arts and culture as well. Like Allen said before there's so much talent in in many Valley and so much like so many young people and queer people who really want to get out and get involved, but we look around at the council's around us that like Mary Beth.

Back and maribyrnong and Melbourne who are really investing in and supporting arts and culture and they feel like actually many Valley could step up I worked in I've worked in Community Arts for more than a decade. I worked for snuff puppets and National Institute of circus arts. And and so I I do know what these organizations need to thrive because I've been in in the enrolls there and I know how you really have to make a lot out of a little and and arts artists are amazing at like being efficient and and and really really like building Community out of like whatever they can get and that's that Council needs to invest in that.

Definitely Ellen. I think that's probably a good place for you to chip in and take that further as an artist. Perhaps tell us as well about your journey as an artist and particularly moonee Valley, but anything that you sort of think is relevant on this particular point and anything else. Yeah, for sure. I guess the first thing that comes to mind is obviously a lot of music venues are really suffering right now and I'm sure you've all heard before with the insurance hikes and all of that sort of stuff and it's just really really tough to be operating a venue at the moment. And so like I feel like greens and counsel, you know, really? I feel like really can help change like for example. I know like in your city council Gary old every tree has been spearheading the save live music campaign. Hmm. And yeah, and you know, we need all the support that we can get like yesterday. I was just like driving through, you know a venue that had recently closed down and I remember playing with Mona Lisa there and it was just really disheartening. Yes to like, you know, we as musicians obviously need platforms, you know to make art to connect with the community and share our music. So yeah, and also, you know Moonee Valley like I feel like we could really benefit from you know, doing more their terms of like arts and culture and you know, as Jodi said we do have a very vibrant like queer Community, but it's just we need more events to kind of really engage and connect and create each other.

Yeah, I think it is very very important. We all know that you know quiz, being creative and neurodivergent all that sort of thing. Perhaps don't tend to fit into what I'll call the big inverted commas, you know majority 925 lifestyle at times and if they try to you know, we try it can damage our mental health or we're not quite sort of as you know, best as we could be achieving a potential all that sort of stuff. So it is very very important that councils and all levels of government do support arts and support art strongly and of course 3 CR has a community station that supports local music would be is right behind that we're here and we're here to play your music as well. And yeah, that's it is just so important. So it is really good. I mean, can I ask if it's okay to ask personally? I mean, how do you manage as an you know sort of do you find I cut you know, it is their stress also emotionally and mentally and I know you can be financially. Yeah that sort of thing and how do you balance that? We've sadly got to earn a living and sometimes do the proverbial day job. That wouldn't be our first preference or our higher preferences. How do you manage all that? What do you do? Yeah. I mean, you're right like it isn't easy. It is tricky, you know, particularly, you know about, you know playing music.

Music playing shows. It's like, you know, it is a gig economy. And yeah, because nowadays it's you know, it's easier than ever to be making recording your music at home. But at the same time it's also you have to be like, you know, your own manager. You're going to be your own marketing person love that stuff. So you know, it does come with a lot of work and I think I'm fortunate enough to be in a bad for people that we can kind of share the workload amongst each other. And even though we will have like day jobs, but we kind of yeah are able to manage that by yet really sharing the load I guess and yeah.

Yeah don't have to tell me where tell us where of course my really appreciate you sharing that and the vulnerability that's involved because it's not an easy topic, you know, we all have our passions and the long-suffering listeners of 3 CR know mine, which I'll come to later in the show. But what sort of day job. Do you do that at least makes it will say bearable if that's this that yeah. Well, okay. Well, I'll do a few things. Yes, where do I begin? Actually, I work for a not-for-profit organization called The Guardian which is actually in a be confident.

So, you know, I work as a marketing officer, you know, and we basically put on shows for culturally diverse communities and for artists called as well. So and then I do like two days as a dental assistant working with special needs patients. Yeah, and so in amongst that obviously volunteering do a bit of volunteering work.

Is running an election campaign event. That's a bit of volunteering as a Powerhouse mental health sometimes but you know, yeah so doing that. But yeah, I also musicians like we feel like it's a very common theme in the Arts and I guess

Music Community. It's not like a lot of musicians have to take on lots of different jobs and wear a lot of different hats. But yeah, it is a you know, obviously with also like, you know the cost of living in the housing crisis like it does really, you know affect everybody. But yeah, that's my train of thought there. No, look it.

It isn't easy, you know, we're struggling to keep the bills paid and how do we do that? And it's not like we've got an again huge inverted commas big white collar 925 full-time careers, all that sort of thing. It's not easy and look I can, you know, very very much feels with you because some is the long-suffering listeners of this show. My passion is professional wrestling and I love doing the commentary and ring announcing on that button and other artistic things, but it's often hard to

The work and now I do various day jobs diversity educator still doing some bits of accounting which it's hard to find the environments that I need to do that sometimes because are they not so much queer informed? I'm reasonably okay with that but are they, you know convergent mental health informed that sort of thing. So yeah, I very much that's why I ask because I just think the more ideas we can get out there on how to deal with it how people manage it I think is very very important for Diverse people and very much queer people as part of that. Yeah. So thank you for sharing that. I think we might have the next the next track that you've popped in for us today. And that's your single that is mining leases moaning. Lisa's single Wayside. Tell us a little about why site mmm, so ways that is our latest single release, so we had a bit of a break after releasing our first album and now so we're back to releasing music.

But Wayside is essentially about you know, finding a love that you safe space and a love that you can guess find. Yeah be comfortable in and you know, whether it's like with your partner with a very close friend or a pet, you know, because the community yeah. Yeah cool. Let's have a listen in to why Side by moaning Lisa and

And that moaning Lisa includes one of my guest Ellen Chan. And while the guest is Jody Kinnersley, we'll come back and wrap up our conversation about the quiz out front quiz to the front celebrating quick community in Artistry and Moonee Valley tell you when where how who what how you can get there and make sure we've got everyone mentioned in the meantime, you're on through out of the pan on 3 CR 855 am Digital 3. We just heard from moaning Lisa and Wayside a new hit single from the band and wrap up Mike the conversation with Jodie can honestly and Ellen Chan Jody. There's lots of lots of great entertainment. But yes, it's a fundraiser. the grain so tell us about other sort of will say green dish political type of things that are going on and people there and other people involved on the artists fund as well in a second. Yeah. Absolutely. So we're going to have like a big focus on the party. We've got the artists and they're going to take Center Stage but also really excited to have former Senator Janet rice joining us. Yeah. We love Janet and will be also Holding a really really exciting raffle. I mean fool wheel of a raffle but truly the we have got some incredible prizes that have been donated by a lot of queer Community artists and small business owners. So there's actually some really great stuff to get in that raffle and I think we're going to get senator Rice to to draw that for us. Yeah, that'll be super exciting. Yeah, I forgot to also mention there there.

Bay like, you know small businesses from the queer Community who will be there as well. So yeah, we've also going to have some stall holders to host selling some of their themed merchandise is going to have a real festive Vibe the events hosted by Sarah Bartolo pretty awesome comedian activist Instagram Tick-Tock star. So excited to have her as well. I think.

Think she's going to bring the fun. Yeah, and we'll also have Declan McGuinness who is also running for many Valley Council. He's running in Fairburn Ward, which is next door to the world that I'm waiting in. So we're running really hard in Flemington where I'm running and Ascot Vale where declan's running and driving car and many ponds. Yeah. My place is actually kind of on the border of both and so we've got two balconies hoping up placards with both of them not sticking out.

We'll come on. Let's say it's a non-binary place exactly. We love it. That's what we like. Hell. No, this just sounds like an awesome event. I mean, I'm just wondering, you know, if there are lgbtqia+ Community organizations or those that support the community either in the area or Melbourne or Statewide whether they've got a chance to drop off flyers or something. Yeah.

Absolutely. We I mean that the name quiz to the front, you know a celebration of queer Community. That's what we're trying to do right where it's not it's a

A fundraiser, but the ticket prices are really really low 20 $25 $15 for concession. If you need a solidarity ticker, your unwaged you can just get in touch with us and we'll make sure that you know Community really shows up for each other including any queer organizations who want to you know, be profiled sounds excellent. So it's with great respect to Melbourne's queer arts and culture Festival. Midsummer is given

This is the night before spring will call this mid-spring a little bit of all of queer stuff and goodness knows we after this winter we could do with a little bit of warming up. When and where does it happen? Okay, it will be on Saturday the 31st of August at the moonee ponds Bowling Club doors are from 6:30 p.m. Those 6:30 a tongue-in-cheek. Will there be dragged time?

This might be a yeah, I feel like you know, where else are you gonna see drag queens as you know, you're going to see them at a ball and Club again, maybe well, I think I look I'm naturally all for this. This is just incredibly welcome now. I think this is great. I mean we need more of it. I think that we need Grassroots. It's tough. You know, I just think it's really important and look and you just of 3 CR if there are other candidates who want to come and chat on the Show about these issues then of course the opportunities there, we are balanced but really appreciative of this. I mean we needing we also in the wider context, you know, it's tough times for quiz at the moment on the political front with you know, it's sort of and one of the news items of the week. Of course is the Alp seemingly abandoned its promise to end the religious exemptions at a national level for student that stop queer students and teachers getting the employment and safety and all that sort of thing that they need.

So we need that sort of visibility Gatherings where we can be ourselves and Isis isn't as a bit of a gap there. So this feels a bit of that Gap and I think that and it's as Daffy Duck one said good unwholesome clean fun. Yep. We might have some dirty jokes too though. All right, then a dirty dirty wholesome clean fun. I can do that. That's fair enough. I look well look. It's you know, it's sort of if you're what is it? If you're if you're under 18, you have to be a

By parent. Oh gosh, you know something yeah, it is a license venue. Yeah fair enough. These are that sounds like a good one moonee Valley Bowls Club. Mini Palms bulks Club, I beg your pardon and we'll just I'm just going to make sure we have the address of that. Thank you for clarifying about by the way because I think there is a mini Valley both club like a boys club. Yeah. Yeah many ponds ballclub on Mount Alexander Road.

It's what I've got here. Yes, that is why was the one yes, as opposed to the valley one. So many ponds Bowls Club that looks like lots of fun. Look. Thank you for coming in particularly. It was relatively short notice. If you organize this I've got to thank see on who helped us organize this which was awesome. Yeah. Yep on you see on from Vic grains, and I just think you know, it's just a real boost. So if that's about you know, I think we've Got it covered. Thank you so much. Thank you. Thank you. Thanks for having us all have a couple of messages come back with a few quick news items and one of personal excitement and then I'll wrap up the show and we'll head over to freedom of species who have a wonderful interview lined up for 1:00. Now. This one does relate to myself but I'm a little bit excited about this because it does have relevance to gender equity in a way as the long-suffering listeners of this show know that I'm in love and him involved in as a commentator and ring announcer in professional wrestling and yesterday was my standing gig on the noon show at Alpha Pro Wrestling doing commentary. But as always hung around hang out with the peeps and through the afternoon and it turned out one of the commentators on the evening show wasn't available.

So I filled in but what made this extra special was I got to commentate with another woman The Fabulous Jem Stone. And as far as we know this could be the first time in Australia that there's been an all-female commentary team doing professional wrestling, which is a bBit of a landmark wrestling has been male-dominated. So I'm just a little bit excited still a little bit excited today for that but it is of relevance to this show. It's great to see I'm still checking out trying to get to verify that it is logical I've checked with one person who was has been involved in Australian wrestling for around 45 years. He cannot recall.

I'm going to post on an Australian Wrestling Facebook group and see if it finds out there we go a little bit of history as Gorilla Monsoon would have said for the all time wrestling fans history made in Melbourne, which is very very cool. So there's my little bit of artistry news for the day and I'm yes as you can probably hear through my voice today. I'm slightly stoked list us but it's very very exciting to have that happen.

Other things I've had an update from Komino on last week's show where we talked about the new requirements for forms for the Victorian Public Health System where there is a requirement to put in both sex assigned at Birth gender and pronouns which many people don't believe is appropriate and the Reddit thread that I mentioned last week Konomi who was one of the people who are alerted me to this wrote to the Department of Health in Victorian got this response, which I will read as quickly as I can quoting I can only think

Point of health and can name is replied. So in essence do not seem to understand you're not just causing distress. You are causing discrimination. We still don't know who was consulted about the changes everyone that she and I have talked to were blindsided by this change don't recall any surveys and and as you noted that it would be shared on social media and giving it to publicly available. That's why I've read it out. So yeah, it's still causing concern for Trans and gender diverse people this I don't think it's been well managed at all and I would definitely like to know who was involved in this because it just does not seem right to me. So that's the update on that one very quickly freedom of species is coming up at 1:00 in a few minutes time if you're listening live and don't forget you can listen to all the 3 CR programs on demand and on podcast

What else? Well, yes as I quickly mentioned during the show that unfortunately it seems the Federal Government has reneged on its some commitment to end discrimination against LGBT while say lgbtqa+ students and teachers insects not included in this one. They've tossed in the towel, which is well pretty weak to put it politely and there's leaving many queer people feeling abandoned and I'll have more on that next week, but in the meantime check out the fabulous in your face from Friday with James Mackenzie interviewing Rodney Chrome from just equal Australia. Declaring my interest as a Committee Member of just equal Australia to hear more about that. But this is certainly a big issue for our communities. And of course a federal election due sometime in around the next 12 months. We've got to make sure these things get on the map and that's a question. Why is the federal government not hearing what queer people want. Are they not listening? Are they not getting good advice? Who knows? We'll have to get to the bottom of it.
