They're not likely. I don't think to have any content warnings for today, but if something comes up in the course of the show, naturally will mention the numbers. You can call a couple of issues to start with on the show today and one. Well, it seems It's lit, it's on the front page of the Sunday age. And but it's also right at the part, the heart of rainbow communities. And that's and the headline, monkeypox mystery surge in Melbourne and 20 locally acquired cases and previously most cases were amongst Travelers.

Returning from overseas. And the Victorian deputy chief Health opposite of communicable disease. Associate professor. Deborah Friedman is said she's pretty concerned about the increase and it doesn't seem to be happening in other states and territories presumably. And so what's the the go there? Same access to vaccines, same roughly, the same messaging going out. So what is the issue and one?

Gay nightclub in Fitzroy. Will one night at a gate Club. Is this the report continuation on Page? 6 says, if you're on the tree version of your newspaper, has stopped stopped a particular night come to that in a second Australian Federation of AIDS organizations. Deputy chief executive he's painter. Feo said that people returning from virus hot spots should avoid prolonged contact with people. Now, this is the critical issue about prolonged contact.

Chakram to again in a second. So really important that we look at that and said abstinence is not a mid to long-term solution but it is a reasonable to ask where people have returned from settings, whether our community cases of monkeypox to avoid sexual, contact or physical contact for two weeks. So they can monitor for any symptoms, Simon Ruth CEO at Thorn Harbor Health, which of course, has been around since the 1980s said that wouldn't work. However, it's not a practical and viable option. And that the answer is that, this is happening in Melbourne right now that do need to be informed in making their own decisions. I think they're two equally valuable perspectives and valued. I think everyone's got to make their own call about what safe but prevention, think. It's also about sort of try it, prevention and Portion which needs to happen till we just have know, a little more about this particular, local outbreak.

Simon Ruth is said that Australia had not done enough to procure, vaccines, and there should be releasing. What stockpile, what they have into the national stockpile and hitting Melbourne hard. And the club in question is circuit well-known Club in the rainbow communities, particularly for men and I'm going to come back to this in a minute. Men, having sex with men circuit has canceled, their naked night Adam, which was happening on Monday nights as a preventative measure.

You're not and I think that's a sensible. Move myself. I'm I don't claim to be an expert in communicable sort of stuff. My expertise in B more lgbtiq than say HIV or other transmissible things, but I think that's sensible at the moment particularly if people are naked, but this article does have a sort of inset on preventing it. There's been 40 case.

Aces in Victoria, 20 locally, transmitted cases it spreads from person to person through skin-to-skin contact with an and contact with contaminated, surfaces or items and respiratory droplets. And so, this dot point, the next point, the outbreak has disproportionately impacted men who have sex with men, it can affect anyone who has prolonged contact with someone with the virus. It says people should isolate from others and abstain from sex, while symptomatic, until their lesions have.

Yield and use condoms with all sexual partners for eight weeks afterwards and be careful if you are returning from hotspots such as Europe and North America. Now I think that's all as I say, it's not my expertise. Check out sites like Thorn Harbor icon of feo for more information. But the thing that I would say on this I mean this program has the a little intro says that we are a program covering by pan polyamorous trans issues. So

It says men say having sex with men. Now this leads to interesting situations but also says anyone with having a prolonged contact. So what happens then if we are talking about someone and I'm going to use the language to start with assigned male. So a trans woman who has sex with cisgender men, attract, a non-binary person who was assigned male has sex with men, but where do I sign? Female coming in, I just hope.

I'm not an expert in this area but I saw ask the question are we being as inclusive as we can in our messaging? If someone wants to correct me on that or inform me about that? Let me know but as a trans person not that I'm go to clubs have multiple partners at this time. I can I just I do feel a little concerned and we've just had a message come in monkeypox.

It's doesn't from wombat monkey putt. Monkeypox doesn't sound like a fun and cheerful Sunday, afternoon discussion hope next week. We have a glitter topic to offset it. Well, look you, it's a fair point. It's not fun. But we do have to get that out there. This is community radio, wombat and it is an issue, but hoping in the next few weeks, to talk to the authors of a book that I'm writing positive, trance, stories, and hopefully soon, we'll have a launch of these Stand By Us conference. And I might have some exciting glittery news coming up.

The next couple of weeks, I'm on a combination of the personal and Community Front. So there's something. There's some hints for you to get us through, but there will be another important topic coming up on a different aspect of intimacy, coming up in the next segment and that's about women and sex. So we will and I think that by some inclusion, there could be an element of non-binary and gender diversity a gender and those beyond the binary

In our next topic as well. Forgot to thank Heather for out of the blue diving, deep for marine use as they as she in the crew, always do from 11:30 till noon. Mention that the opening track was from the late great. Jeff Healey, someone who was very unique, who was unique. I was going to say very unique, that's a very much a tautology. I remember once watching football and the commentator said we've got full coverage of the highlights so we're not doing that. But seriously,

And thanks to the crew from out of the blue. And we opened up with Jeff Healey from a greatest hits compilation, unique guitar, player played the guitar, while it was resting on the knees, and got better access that way. And whether that was because Jeff was vision-impaired / blind, or whether that's just how he felt like playing it. I don't know but he certainly I think inspired musicians with that uniqueness and that's why I fought thought. I just open up with that today but Let's move. Keep the music moving. Something. Sometimes you've got to keep pushing along. Here's the dingoes from the 2010 comeback album after they were inducted into the Aria Hall of Fame and a track called. We childlike miles in Australia, a nationally at a right five times greater than apartheid South Africa, child black males in 1993, the suicide and self-harm rates are the highest in the world. And the life expectancy Gap is the biggest in the first world. You know, Australians don't like hearing the truth about how bad things are. But the more we resolved from it, the longest is going to continue. It doesn't matter.

What you color mind stream? Media is not interested in this stuff. It doesn't find Space to talk truthfully and deeply about issues that affect all Australians. The only place predominantly you will find that with any real depth is on community radio, and 3 CR has been one of the great leaders in that. So if people are wondering where they should spend their hard-earned cash, I would suggest three see as a bloody good place to start. Lots of changes. We need my brother.

3ci 8255 am 3cr Digital 3cr Dot org dot r u3 c. Our on-demand out of the pan with Sally first broadcasting known through one every Sunday afternoon. Thanks for your company prior to the messages, we heard from the dingoes from their 2010, album tracks reuniting after a very long time with all four of the five original lineup but one who John Lee who had sadly passed on but lots of great backing.

Missions as well. And we can produced and recorded by The Fabulous. Caron, tal hose to, after the dingoes originally broke up in the late 70s. Early 80s went on to produce an American produced, Pat benatar's all fired up. There's some music trivia for today, things were coming up, there's lots of things happening. There's always, lots of things going on, and there's another report of great interest in today's age on page.

35, the headline, if you're on the internet film, puts woman's pleasure on the agenda, we've been buying sexual Services a reality that's often overlooked dismissed and sanitized brights. Hillary Caldwell who is a sexologist with a PHD in social science at the University of New South Wales. Now, I haven't seen this film. Good luck to you and release since starring as retired religious education. Teacher Nancy Stokes who employs a sex worker? In the recent film. Good luck to you, Leo.

Emma Thompson has been vocal about the effect, playing the role of head on her private life. She now understands the patriarchy is the system supporting the slut-shaming of empowered woman and robbing them of their true sexual potential. Aunty is angry. Well, I'll be it's how you use your own God. I have the saying, I'd much rather be accused of being angry at discrimination and be accused of committing discrimination, and then how we make that anger. Productive. Anger is not bad in itself, it's how it's used.

And who we, how we deal with it and how we take the energy. And Hillary quite rightly says, what has been? This is a quote from the article quote. What has seemed glaringly obvious in the emission from the otherwise, sex positive. Feminists conversation of support for Nancy sexual awake and then has been the significance of the sex worker, Leo played by Darrell McCormick, Leo gives Nancy and education into the political and sexual plot.

Status is a woman and I think that's very, very interesting. Women can and do learn sexual life skills from sex workers of women, paying for the service of sex workers are found to be transformative in any doctoral. Research about women, buying sexual services in Australia. And I'll just there's a subtlety in there which we'll come to in a second acquiring, the skills that women needed to control and Lead their sexual activity, gives women a sense of power.

But challenges stereotypes about women's sexuality, and gendered roles that may keep them subservient in positions to Men, Women buy sexual Services. I've often been largely overlooked or dismissed you to the skewed way in which we think about the sex industry will totally agree with that. And the fact that women buy sexual services from sex workers has been sanitized by arguments, not many women do this, not true. I'd like, I would like to have in fantasy the evidence but I'm sure it's there and the behavior of

I'm women and men buying sexual Services is different also not true. So we don't know how many people buy sexual Services because sex work is so stigmatized and often people won't admit that they might pay for sex, whether it's of any form. So that most people don't know that buying sexual services, including human connection and intimacy and there's lots of reasons. It can be very therapeutic and others are shifting energies for Example, and that I really like this comment. Another reason why we don't know how many women buy sexual Services is because gender-role purists construct, men as being inherently exploitative when they buy sexual services from women, but women doing the same thing as errand and that's where the little hint came in. I mean, this says women, buying sexual Services. Now you might get the services from my male, sex work, you might get them from a female and you might get them from a non-binary type of sex worker.

And half of the 21 women that Hillary interviewed for her. Research said they had therapeutic goals ranging from healing sexual trauma or physical conditions. Such as Vagina vaginismus. Sorry the vaginismus is painful or impossible penetration. Penetration others wanted to learn about their bodies and experiment, different desire or types of Partners, and your responses, to receiving pleasure. So I think this is a really

Good conversation to have and of course in a world where hopefully we value all genders and sexualities equally. And the woman could be paying another woman as I say, paying a man or paying a non-binary person. And it's really important that we get past gender stereotypes in sex work as an educator. Whilst often my focus, is that it will call it the center of the intersection in a session is LGBTIQ and particularly trans

One of the things when we do try to talk about intersectionalities is you can have a service that is LGBTIQ or trans. And Lee is it sex worker friendly and why do we say that? Because research from Victoria's peer-based sex, work organization, Vixen Collective, found that two-thirds of sex workers are. I will say LGBTIQ I don't think there'd be and we don't know about intersex and or asexual aromantic and I think that makes a lot of sense.

If you let's say you a person does come to you. And wants for example, I can Central threesome of some sort, it might be regardless of gender. So there's one possibility so I think it's really important. That sex work is looked at positively from a queer perspective because so many sex workers, do come under the rainbow somewhere, and they're just a lot of myths out there and great to see.

Victoria's sex work laws, reformed earlier this year and get up to a much better standard than where they were. And the idea that we criminalize sex work, just seems quite frankly, bizarre, it's a form of work. It's someone people want to do it, then that's their right and therefore freedom. But the fact that the part that gets me is where people devalue sex work and say it's anti-feminist. Well, if a woman pays, another woman for sex work, so

Sighs. I don't see how that can be anti-feminist myself. If anyone can explain how it is, you know, I'm popping to the show with your thoughts, right, let's keep the music coming and let's have a track from Colin. Hay. I re-watched a fantastic documentary on Colin Hay. The who in Australia will say is well known as the lead singer of Men at Work in the 1980s and you just search for

Or Colin Hay documentary on your YouTube. It's about why it's 84 minutes. One hour, 24 minutes, and he's a very, very thoughtful person. He left Men at Work had a bit of a challenge challenging time and revitalized his music career. As a solo artist with many people saying he's the best Troubadour in the world. Just does one person vocal guitar type of shows and it's done lots of albums since, but this is one of his standout tracks from his solo career.

So I think very queer relevant. He's a track called waiting for my real life to begin. Let's hope that quiz can be themselves safely as soon as they can and get on with their real-life 3cr 855. Am 3cr Digital 3cr Dot org, dot a you'll. See our on-demand out of the pan with Sally

3c alright, 55 am 3cr Digital 3cr Dot. Org dot r u3 c. Our on-demand, out of the pan with Sally first broadcasting known through one every Sunday afternoon. Thanks for your company. And we just heard from Colin Hay from his album going somewhere, which was somewhat of a compilation of the time of some Colin, Hays, solo and Men at Work songs. Did you have on it re ramped version of Overkill and that one is probably one of his best ever in my opinion, from the solo career waiting, for my real life to begin and lots of great Colin, Hay, Silo work out there. Lots of other news going on one. That's not so much, queer specific but I just noticed this one come up. Thanks to the guardian Victoria night club offers free leads after quote or a 2 N. Repeated reports of drink spiking, in the warehouse Ballarat,

Now, first of all, what I just spiking drinks is a criminal offense, of course, and it's a sad indictment that, you know, we can't prove it, prevent it. But I don't know how you do short of massive CCTV type surveillance and hit the owner of this club says that he ends up driving a number of people to hospital. Now, this solution is that they've offered free leads to patrons in an effort to stop drink spiking.

And these leads from what the photos look like, look like and there's just some sort of foil with a straw hole in them and that would hopefully get past it and they are recyclable for Lids which is of course important as well. This show surrounded by environmental type of programs and nature programs being out of the blue at 11:30 and freedom of species talking all things animal advocacy at 1:00 and obviously

Be, I hope this doesn't happen in queer clubs and we need to radically could of course, but it's maybe one that some of our queer clubs need to consider on a historical note by Godfrey. It's the 50th anniversary of Number 96, which was a television show in Australia in the 1970s and of major relevance to this show. There were few things, sex scenes and nudity some actors contractual Blige to strip and gay. Sexuality was presented as a vibrant, part of life with Joe Hashem, playing Don and John oxic as Simon, and it was presented with sympathy and empathy, and did very well. And there's a famous scene where a retractable, a female is trying to sort of say, how attracted cheers to Jo Jo hashem's character, Dawn, and he said, I can't, I'm a homosexual.

All but it was done with sympathy and empathy, perhaps not so much. I don't think that it was mixed feelings. There was a gay character in one of the early series of Dallas. The you u.s. soap and Bobby, Ewing was highly critical of his lifestyle that Bobby the nice guy. I don't even know what Jay. I had to think of it. Of course, Number 96 also featured Carlotta a trans woman. Now yes some carlotta's views in more recent times perhaps not

For a lot of trans people would agree with that. You'd have to at least give credit to Carlotta forgiving visibility in that time when there was just so little and anything remotely positive or courageous. And the biopic that was on TV around eight years ago, I thought it was very well done and a lot of chance people in a nice way, said they couldn't watch it because it was too realistic in terms of how it portrayed the transphobia. But I thought it was but I think

Think that's a good in a way, a good comment to make because it spoke truly to what trans people. Sadly faced. And I think it is still there. On might still be there on ABC iview and it's I thought it was well portrayed there was one classic scene in that Carlotta biopic where she and another another person who

I'm with the other person, I think was more a game game. I'll drag queen character hauled before a court for some form of indecent Behavior, just for being who they were. And now, whether this actually happened or not, or whether it was dramatization color to says, to the judge, who are you sitting there in your wig and gown to sit in judgment, in are sitting in their hearing hours case, dismissed good call, who needs expensive lawyers, when you've got Carlotta pioneering the way, and I think that's was really, really awesome.

And so it's important that we understand our queer. History are my plan by coincidence. The message for the queer wise art project, which looks at queer. A bit of queer history in the city of yarra say with pride yours. Truly and my colleague James Mackenzie from in your face on 3cr had the honor to do some voiceover work. For that awesome piece of work. The queer ways art project. Check it out. Let's have some more music and a happy birthday wishes in.

Meant for us over the years and particular in queer communities and any minute now, interesting one, just not queer, but just came up in the guardian, which I had to smile at midnight oil, and Missy Higgins, bring thousands of older festival-goers to Broken Hill. Yes, I wonder if they've got, I don't know, comfortable, beds for people like me at these festivals, but it is an interesting thing that not all of us.

Us are younger. People going to, we want to go to festivals and we want to listen to the types of music. We do reminds me of Boulder which happens on the first Sunday of every month. So two weeks away for by plus people over 40 and online discussion group and coming up this Tuesday, you just heard the message for bisexual Alliance Victoria of, which I am a Committee Member and the you can find the look at our page on

I could notice this at midnight is just as Saturday starts rest, your girl does that anything to do with wrestling and then at half past midnight on Friday battle championship wrestling. I'm not obsessed with wrestling seriously. I'm not other things that are coming up during the week. Another example for Trans people, particularly trans men and non-binary, the

It have their meeting on Sunday afternoon, check out the shed support dot org dot a. You for lots of info about that and have very come. I've had the honor of as a honor eagerly early in the shed once and it's a very comfortable shed. Indeed, the shed support dot org dot a you and always there's lots of stuff going on for all the parts of our communities as it Happens. Now I got pinned in on social media to a an article. I know this is one of the topics that I'm going to use it more to get our view point across and this is this nonsense about trans women in sport and an article in pink news and the UK Rugby's gay World Cup, big Sports bosses to ditch trans athlete bands. It's causing serious harms and through excluding and the Bingham cup founded.

In memory of Mark Bingham, one of the pet bright passengers. You fought back against hijackers on board. United Airlines Flight 93 on September 11 2001, gosh, over 20 years already. You know, we become diverted the plane away from Washington, d.c. Landmark to a field in Pennsylvania. And so the Bingham cup was set up in his honor and charbel Sharia Bigham cups board topic news.

Trans children and teenagers experience, poor health across all indicators, measured by public health agencies. But we, it says here, if will say when they can play support in a safe and supportive environment, it could provide with many much needed health and psychosocial benefits and a recent Summit of the Bingham cup has started a strategy focused in Long focusing on reversing World Rugby's policy. I'd be very interested.

To hear about that, would have to do some investigative journalism on that during the week and find out what's going on because it seriously, it's just it's a totally logical approach. This banning all trans women and I've got a question here, which will be a little provocative in terms of women's swimming. We're due to have the Olympics in Brisbane in 2032 Australian law. In terms of sport has takes the approach

Roach of unfair Advantage based on strength, stamina and physique, whereas Fina has taken the more, in my opinion, overarching or more over reaching approach is a better word of banning all trans women without exception. So, convenient, come and have the Olympics in the women's swimming Olympics in Australia and thumb its nose at our laws. Hmm. Don't know if anyone's thought about that, but maybe we're going to have to get on and think.

So lots to consider there, but yeah, I have, I've stayed away from the sport issue because it's just so emotive and nonsensical such bad process by Fina. That the whole thing was kept in secret. We don't know how well trans women were consulted. If at all and intersects women, we should hasten to add. They are equally affected weed since found out that the final report was presented, 14 minutes before delegates voted on it. Now, I've been on boards and commissions.

It. He's four years and the idea that you would get a 24 page report and have 14 minutes to read digest and vote on it without being able to investigate it for yourself. If you had concerns about, it is just utterly poor governance and it's just overall a lack of holistic leadership from technocrats who they did consult. Sorry to say this but lawyers at times just don't often have the sometimes don't have the human touch. Scientists sometimes don't have the human touch and Finas leader.

It in my opinion certainly lacked it an appalling decision and other sports have followed. Since I don't buy into the arguments there stood, their sex and gender stereotyping, they assume all trans women are tall and muscular. I also give full credibility to the point made by 80 Chun, an endocrinologist here in Melbourne, who said that trans women might appear to have a four-wheel drive chassis, but we've got a four-cylinder engine in it and that's about, right? I certainly don't have the strength.

'the stamina and physique I had prior to hormones, or even a few years ago, so, quite nonsensical, and that needs to be put out there but will mainstream media and American legislators. Listen, to facts and Common Sense and balance. Probably not. That's why we have as some of our messages today said from Bob Brown and Jane Clifton and others. Why we need to talk about these issues in depth on community radio, we also get to play a whole range of music

I'll take it out today with someone who also sadly left us over 20 years ago but still did Amazing Music John, Lee Hooker and he is with Carlos Santana on guitar, amongst others and attract called the Healer. Let's hope we can all heal. Thanks for tuning in to out of the pan. I'm Sally Goldner, freedom of species coming up next talking, all things animal advocacy once again. I'm Sally Goldner, not Scott Morrison. Thanks for tuning in and I'll catch you next week.
